Mrs. Lane,
 This has been a very great year! I really enjoyed having you as my English teacher. I think you are real nice and a sweet teacher. I hope you have a nice summer, and I might come back next year to see you.
 I really mean it too. Hope you have a great summer and every thing. Hope you like my other classes, having to be a nice summer and see you around this summer and I'll come see you sometimes next year. Be seeing you!
 Signed:
 Charles Roberts

 Mrs. Lane,
 I enjoyed your class a lot! You made so many of my days so much better than they started to be in the morning. Just wanted to thank you for your patience through this year and I miss knowing one good teacher before I leave WHHS. Take Care! Much Happiness
 Mellaine Davis

Mrs. Lane,
 To a real cool teacher and person. You know your a very sweet lady. And your husband is a very lucky man. May God be on your side and keep cool.
 Love the family

Mrs. Lane,
 You are the best teacher I have had in my whole 12 years of school. You are number one on my list. Remember me in the future.

Miss Lane
I really enjoyed this year. I always thought that you were the best teacher I had ever had. I have been 3 years I have been in your class. I hope you keep on being very nice.
Love ya

Miss Lane

It's really been a thrill spending this year as a student in your class.
I've spent this year with ups & downs, but I guess all seniors have those. May you always be an inspiration to all of your students.

Mrs. Lane, Robert Allen '72

What can I say - It's been a fantastic year.
I do not know what I would have done without journalism. I enjoyed every moment. I tried my best. In all my high school years, I have not enjoyed a class more; or let me say contributing my small part to the paper. I feel that I will miss The Wildcat more than anything else, in school. I hope to visit you in the years to come - I feel you are a friend.
Please take care of the Wildcat! G-d bless you.

Love always
Roselle

P.S. I'll miss you ... no creativity, just simple words to explain the truth.

Mrs. Lane,
During all my years of school you are one of the greatest English teachers I have ever known. Most teachers conduct their classes in a formal, stiff manner, but your classes are all informal and your classes atmosphere to learn in.
I wish I could be a much better
English teacher.
I hope

Mrs Lane,

You have got to be the most patient, understanding and kind person I know. I have enjoyed Journalism so much this year. Times were almost always good, but when the going gets rough we managed. Don't forget to have fun this summer, but not too much because we have more work to do next year. I'm grateful for all you've done for me. Don't change and tell your husband to take good care of you! He's lucky to have you! God bless you! You're only one of a kind, unfortunately.

Mrs. Lane,

What a surprise you are. It's so rare to find such a kind-hearted, open minded teacher, who is actually a friend to her students. Thank you for being the greatest! I love you. May God bless you and bring you happiness.

“Work and Play”—

We’ve dawned upon so many mornings with such a phrase.

Beginning each before the others end,

Ending each with others beginning,

And forgetting what came before and in between,

While our laughter echoes like the screams of a careless gull—

On the beaches busy with sand.

Who begrudges the youthful antics of the children that we are?
They are the seeds of humor,
And the vines that sprout reach far beyond the rivers of our tears,

STUDENT LIFE

REFLECTIONS

Orientation, opening day, homework, meetings, car washes, ball games. The inevitable hunt for a parking space, cluttered tables and crowded lines, running across the street between classes in the rain. Struggling with stubborn lockers, daydreaming in class, borrowing notebook paper, passing notes, carrying around a load of books and a coat that is always in the way. Admission slips, student teachers, shuffling feet, and snatches of conversation. Caught up in problems or activities which can make a day fly or drag on forever. Those dreary Monday mornings and the relief of Friday afternoons and the final dash from it all at 3:30.

MY DEAR MRS. LANE -

WHAT MIGHT I SAY THAT YOU COULD NOT POSSIBLY KNOW? THE LAST THREE YEARS - WHICH SEEMED INTERMINABLE ON DEADLINE DAYS - HAVE FLOWN BY IN A RUSH NOW THAT I TRY TO RECALL THEM. ATTEMPTING TO THANK YOU IS FUTILE - THERE ARE NO WORDS. I CAN ONLY TELL YOU THAT I SHALL NEVER FORGET OUR GOOD TIMES AND BAD, AND THAT WE SHALL ENJOY REMINISCING ABOUT THOSE TIMES FOR MANY, MANY MORE YEARS. YOU ARE A FRIEND, MRS. LANE, AND I WILL CONTINUE TO TAKE JOY FROM SHARING ^{with you}. I VOW NOT TO LOSE CONTACT WITH YOU - EVER!

I ENJOY YOUR STUDENTS OF YEARS AHEAD - I HOPE THEY WILL APPRECIATE YOUR SENSITIVITY AND WARMTH AS I DO. YOU ARE A RARE PERSON AND A TRULY MAGNIFICENT LADY. MY LOVE TO YOU ALWAYS -

 one would want to come to school. Thank you so much for an enjoyable and very profitable English class. It was always a pleasure that I looked forward to, to come to your English class. You always seemed so cheerful and friendly even on Mondays.
 One of the reasons every one loved you so much is your genuine concern for your students - the Students gather for an impromptu pep rally before the game against Wilson-Fike in the state playoffs.

Mrs. Lane,
you have helped to make my senior year one that I will never forget. you have not only been a fantastic English teacher, but a great friend. I have done a lot of growing up this year, mainly in your room, because I have discovered myself and what I want in life. I know that as years go by you'll forget me among your other "children," But you'll always hold a special place in my heart because you are such a beautiful person.

Love always,

TEENAGE PRINCESS PAGEANT

NHHS semi-finalists Jemere Buchanan, Jennifer Jones, Nancy Rogers, and fourth-runner-up Gail Sineath.

Sixty-three girls from New Hanover and Hoggard participated in the Teenage Princess Pageant held on March 4 in Kenan Auditorium. The princess and the four members of her court came from the twelve semi-finalists.

The girls, judged on beauty, poise, and personality, talked with the judges at a tea on Saturday afternoon. At the pageant, they appeared in evening gowns. Semi-finalists answered questions before the audience in the final phase of judging.

Connie Lynn Kearney from New Hanover became the 1972 Teenage Princess. The princess and her court appeared at the various functions of the Azalea Festival.

dents arrive to begin a memorable evening.

Tears in their eyes, quivering smiles on their faces, rare moments that are never to be forgotten; these are the moments of graduation. In the minds of those seniors, contrasting thoughts of the past and future merge into the present. As the rows of calm, serene faces anticipate the presentation of their diplomas, they not only realize joy, but also a touch of sadness; for graduation is a time of good-byes. Good-byes to friends, school and every day routines, but never good-bye to memories.

GRADUATION

Mrs. Lane,

Well, I really don't know where to even begin. You have become just like a mother to me in this past year. I really hate to leave NHHS because of you but I will be back to see you. Like you said the other day- you have been through everything with me this year- my happiness, my tears, my lounfalls and heartaches. I'll never forget the look on your face the time I came in to quit school. Well, all that foolishness is behind me. We got a long hard road ahead of me now and I'm not going to mess it up anymore by any boy or quitting. I'm planning for a big, exciting, and rewarding life ahead of ³⁷ me. You have really helped

ACTIVITIES

Cabinet and Council

Cabinet committees accomplished most of the work of student government this year. The Secretary of the Treasury and her committee of councilmen and cabinet members sold concessions at all home basketball games. The money went into the student government fund. The Human Relations Committee attended the ESAP meeting in March to gain insight on student-faculty relations.

To highlight the year, the cabinet sponsored a concert in the spring featuring the "Spurrflows." The free entertainment was a welcome break in the everyday activities of school.

Student Body President David Massey discusses voter registration in the schools with Board of Elections Chairman Bill McEachern.

Secretary of Human Relations Mark Langford joins Student Body Secretary Elaine Fields in an informal debate at the Human Relations Workshop.

Billie Thay Robinson, Student Body Vice-President reviews the agenda for a council meeting.

Members Work Together To Bring

Kenneth Sneed helps Public Relations Secretary Deborah Fales put copies of "The Voice" in the homeroom boxes.

Cabinet members Sydney Culbreth, Mark Langford, and Jacque Williams sell concessions at a basketball game assisted by councilman Buzzy Boyd and President David Massey.

Members of the Welfare Committee get toys together for the Christmas Toy Drive.

“Spurrlows” To New Hanover

Signing in after attending the ESAP meeting are Human Relations Committee members Pam Boykin, Scott Redinger and Mark Langford.

Councilman Glenn Addison discusses the "Spurrlows" concert with Student Body Secretary Elaine Fields.

Welfare Committee member Bernard Davis helps Chairman Laura Todd transport Thanksgiving baskets to the Student Union.

Mrs. Russell Long, volunteer parent coach, assists Delores Law with her Spanish assignment while Councilman Marian Stein discusses the problems of setting up a coaching center with Academic Affairs Secretary Jacque Williams.

Senior homeroom chairmen Sam Barbee, Sue Ann Yeager, Mike Walden and Judy Grainger receive voting registration papers from Mrs. Burnett.

Preparing to sell Valentine suckers are Linda Goodson, Beth Hicks, Eddie White, Pam Boykin, and Ann Ward.

Each homeroom elected a chairman in the fall to represent them at meetings held throughout the year. Chairmen called the roll, read the daily bulletin, distributed the newspaper from the library, and took charge of the homeroom voting. Along with homeroom responsibilities, junior chairmen sold Valentine suckers to help finance the Junior-Senior, and sophomore chairmen sold candy to provide funds for a Twirp Dance.

Chairmen Aid with Homeroom Responsibilities

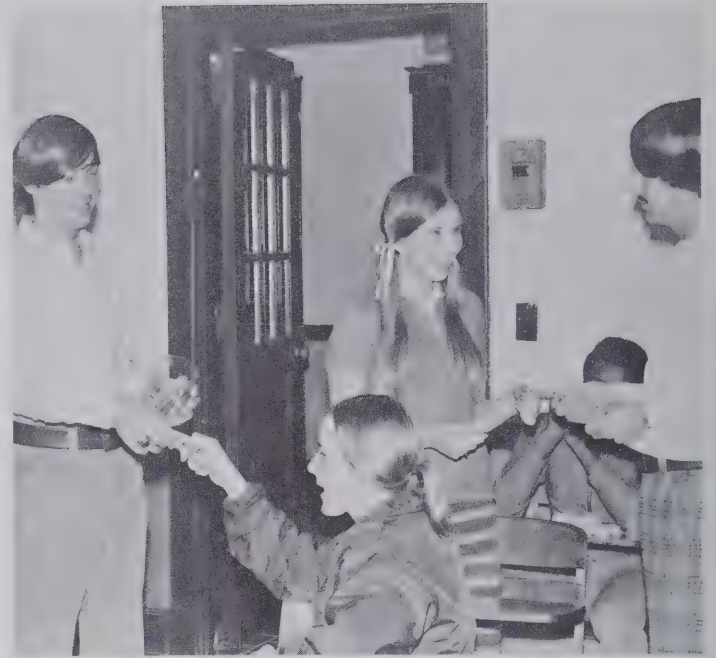

Lynn Keith and Gloria Sidberry distribute the WILDCAT to sophomore chairmen Jackie Horta, Patty Mills, and Greg Herbold.

Homecoming

"Would you Believe a Stork?" is the theme of the School Spirit Club's First Prize float in the Homecoming Parade.

To increase the students' enthusiasm in sports activities, the School Spirit Club sponsored Homecoming Week. During the week, students honored the football players by wearing hats and sneakers, and dressing for the traditional Orange and Black Day. At the pep rally on Friday, Sheila Holland received the club's award for having the most school spirit. Two car washes, a bubble-gum sale, and a doughnut sale financed the Homecoming Dance.

Club members Tommy Hall and Rodney Moore sell bubble-gum cigars to Janie Gerrity and Lyn Dickens before class begins.

A friendly St. Bernard, Jethro, insists on helping out at the car wash.

Secretary Bill Rivenbark presents Mr. C. G. Berry a plaque in recognition of his many years of assistance to the Wildcat sports program.

Honor Society Holds

Mebane Baird congratulates a new member as inductees Mark Langford, Kenneth Howard, George Grizzle, Graham Goodrum, Billy Fulcher, Lucy Elder, Steve Edwards, Henry Duncan, and Jan Davis observe.

Honor Society members Jacque Williams, Mary Kate Spencer, Sydney Culbreth, and Mike Prevatte clean Miss Amy Bradley's grave.

Kenneth Howard receives some help adjusting his Honor Society graduation collar from Sharon Carraway.

Private Induction

New Hanover's chapter of the National Honor Society inducted twenty-eight new members at a private induction ceremony on December 16 at St. John's Church.

Throughout the year the members attended several covered dish suppers where everyone discussed projects for the year. Members planned a Semester Honor Roll Tea and cleaned the Amy Bradley grave site. Individuals found themselves challenged with collecting empty cigarette packs for the Jaycees, who sent them to the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. For each one-hundred packs, RJR bought a pint of blood for a young leukemia victim in Burgaw.

Jan Davis and Faith Seiple sort out empty cigarette packages for the Society drive to help save a young leukemia victim.

Henry Duncan, Stanley Faulk, and Donna Lanier discuss possibility of getting senior exams dropped with advisor Mrs. Maggie Jenkins.

Honor Society members Mebane Baird, Alan Hill, Bill Boehling, Scott Taylor, Lynda Key, Gary Jones, Barbara King, and Emily Lanier enjoy a dinner meeting with Mrs. Nancy Horton, advisor.

Mrs. Brewington, advisor, and Head Social Marshal Vicki Smith interview a student interested in becoming a Social Marshal.

Social Marshals Usher at Graduation

Aiding with school activities, Social Marshals, who are elected by the Student Government, ushered at graduation and the Hanover Singers' Christmas Concert. At the second Hanover-Hoggard basketball game, they kept students off the court during the game. Social Marshals assisted the School Spirit Club at the Homecoming Dance by serving drinks to the students. To create Christmas Spirit, Social Marshals decorated the tree in the main school lobby with ornaments and cranberry and popcorn chains.

To help provide funds for the Homecoming Dance, Angela Clemmons and Peggy Symmes sell drinks.

Jimmy Spivey, Sarah Motsinger, Susan Coley, Jennifer Jones, Mary Piver, Angela Clemmons, Sharon Carroway, and Vicki Smith adorn the Christmas tree with homemade decorations.

At the first meeting of the year, René Mott, Mebane Baird, Jacque Williams, Scott Taylor, Sydney Culbreth, and Henry Duncan conduct the induction ceremony for new members.

Quill and Scroll Inducts New Members

As Mebane Baird and Pam Rhodes lead guest speaker Rip Collins at a buffet supper, they forget to count calories.

Paul Beale receives his membership pin from President Sydney Culbreth as Treasurer Scott Taylor and Mebane Baird look on.

Quill and Scroll inducted thirty-two new members at Angelo's Italian Village during a dinner meeting in November. Officers of this honorary society for high school journalists spoke on the qualities a good journalist should possess.

At a buffet supper in February, Rip Collins, managing editor of the Star News, talked to Quill and Scroll members on the opportunities in Journalism. Afterwards, students directed questions to Mr. Collins in an open discussion.

Civinettes Tammy Herring, Jennifer Jones, Jo Ellen Coulter, Peggy Symmes, Carolyn Memory, Marie Newman, and Pam Everette put up the pride chain in the Student Union.

Jan Davis, Mary Kate Spencer, Kathy Bowker, and Teresa Stewart measure the wire egg around Ann Foster in order to make their float.

Making Christmas cards for the faculty are Jacque Williams, President Jan Davis, Susan Coley, Angela Clemmons, and Janet Owen.

Seniors Buy the

Rosa Parks, Joy Clark, Alice Munns, and Connie Kearney polish trophies and dust the trophy case in the school lobby.

For Christmas, Civinettes made Christmas cards for the faculty and administration. Later in the year, members collected money for The March of Dimes and entertained patients at Grotgen Nursing Home by distributing Valentines and candy. In order to finance club projects, Civinettes sold fruitcakes and links for a pride chain.

From January 31-February 4, Civinettes sponsored Spirit Week for the Hoggard and Goldsboro basketball games. Classes challenged each other to see which could buy the most links for a pride chain. On Monday and Tuesday students wore jeans and pigtails, and Friday was "Fill-Brogden-Hall Night."

Civinettes enter their float in the Homecoming Parade with the theme "We're Gonna Hatch a Victory".

Entertaining a patient at Grotgen Nursing Home are Rita Shain, Cathy Harris, Liz Harrington, and Wanda Evans.

Fashion Show To Finance Service Projects

Linda Lundy and Beverly Eason depart from school to attend the Kiwanis Luncheon with Mr. Tanky Meiers.

On December 16, Keyettes entertained the patients at the Fanny Norwood Nursing Home where they served refreshments, presented the Christmas Story with songs, and gave corsages to the ladies and handkerchiefs to the men. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, accompanied by the Keyettes, partied with children at William Blount School. Each child had the opportunity to sit on Santa's lap and received a toy. To finance club projects, Keyettes held a Fashion Show at St. John's Episcopal Church. Sophomore members were in charge of refreshments; juniors published tickets, posters, and programs, and senior members modeled fashions donated by the Mademoiselle Shop. During the March of Dimes Telethon at the WWAY television studio, Keyette members served food to guest stars and Wilmington Jaycees.

Modeling for the Fashion Show are Margie Pennington, Gloria Russell, Connie Blake and Mary Piver in the front row; and Sharon Carraway, Lindy Lundy, Mary Byers, Mebane Baird, Gail Sineath, and Helen Akel in the back row.

Sarah Bailey, Rozett Floyd, Pam Olsen, and Jackie Horta serve refreshments after the fashion show.

Larry Bullard, Bill Dove, Joe Johnson, Mike Prevatte, Chris Robinson, Andy Tysinger, and Mack Thorpe unload trash cans to place them around the school.

Civitans Campaign against Litter

To encourage proper trash disposal, Civitans painted twenty trash cans orange and black and placed them around the school. As a community project, members collected money for The March of Dimes in February. Selling doughnuts and collecting bottles helped finance club and service projects for the Junior Civitans.

Keith Mazur, Jesse Brock, George Poulos, Donald Morton, and President Mike Prevatte hide Easter Eggs for the nursery children.

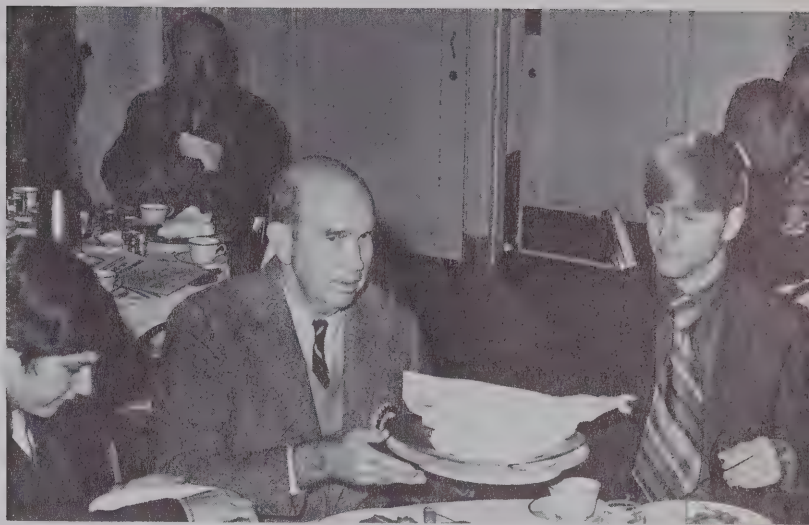

Collecting money for the March of Dimes are Robert Keith, Pat Harrell, Jimmy Worrell, and Kenneth Sneed.

Bread Sales Finance Service Projects

Interact members Michael Bowden and David Cavanaugh prepare President Charlie Roberts for a doughnut sale.

During the Rotary Luncheon Interact Members Gene Allen and Skip Hensen enjoy their meal with Mr. David Scott.

Interact members participated in Project Recycle during January and February by collecting glass, paper, and aluminum. Each week, two members dined at the Rotary Luncheon. To make money for club projects, Interact members sold doughnuts and bread.

Money from a bread sale, bottle drive, and kite sale enabled the Key Club to give a turkey and some canned goods to a needy family at Christmas.

After the sale Key Club members Bobby Senechal and Michael Sparks fix a kite.

Key Clubbers Paul Beale, Charles Lee, Todd Fennell, Lee Doss, and Ricky Killian meet to sell bread.

Hanover Singers Give Second

Ensemble members Bobby Hahn, Jo Ellen Coulter, Mike Walden, Judy Moore, Tammy Herring, Scott Redinger, Jackie McCrea, Lucy Elder, Bruce Thompson, Suzanne Howell, Debbie Gathright, David Joyner, Pat Webb, Vicki Smith, James Bloodworth, Faith Seiple, Sharon Carraway, Ronald Aldridge and Glenn Addison get in the mood for the Spring Concert season.

The Hanover Singers perform at the Vocal Music Department's Christmas Concert.

Cheryl Sandifer rides on the Hanover Singers float which won an Honorable Mention in the Homecoming Parade.

The Madrigal Dinner Concert provides a change of scene for Debbie Causey, Barbara King, Cindi Horrell, Mike Reid, Jo Ellen Coulter, Ronald Aldridge, David Joyner, Pam Boykin, Aneita Edmond, Tammy Herring, Jackie McCrea, Valerie Gurganious, Suzanne Howell, and Cathy Rollinson.

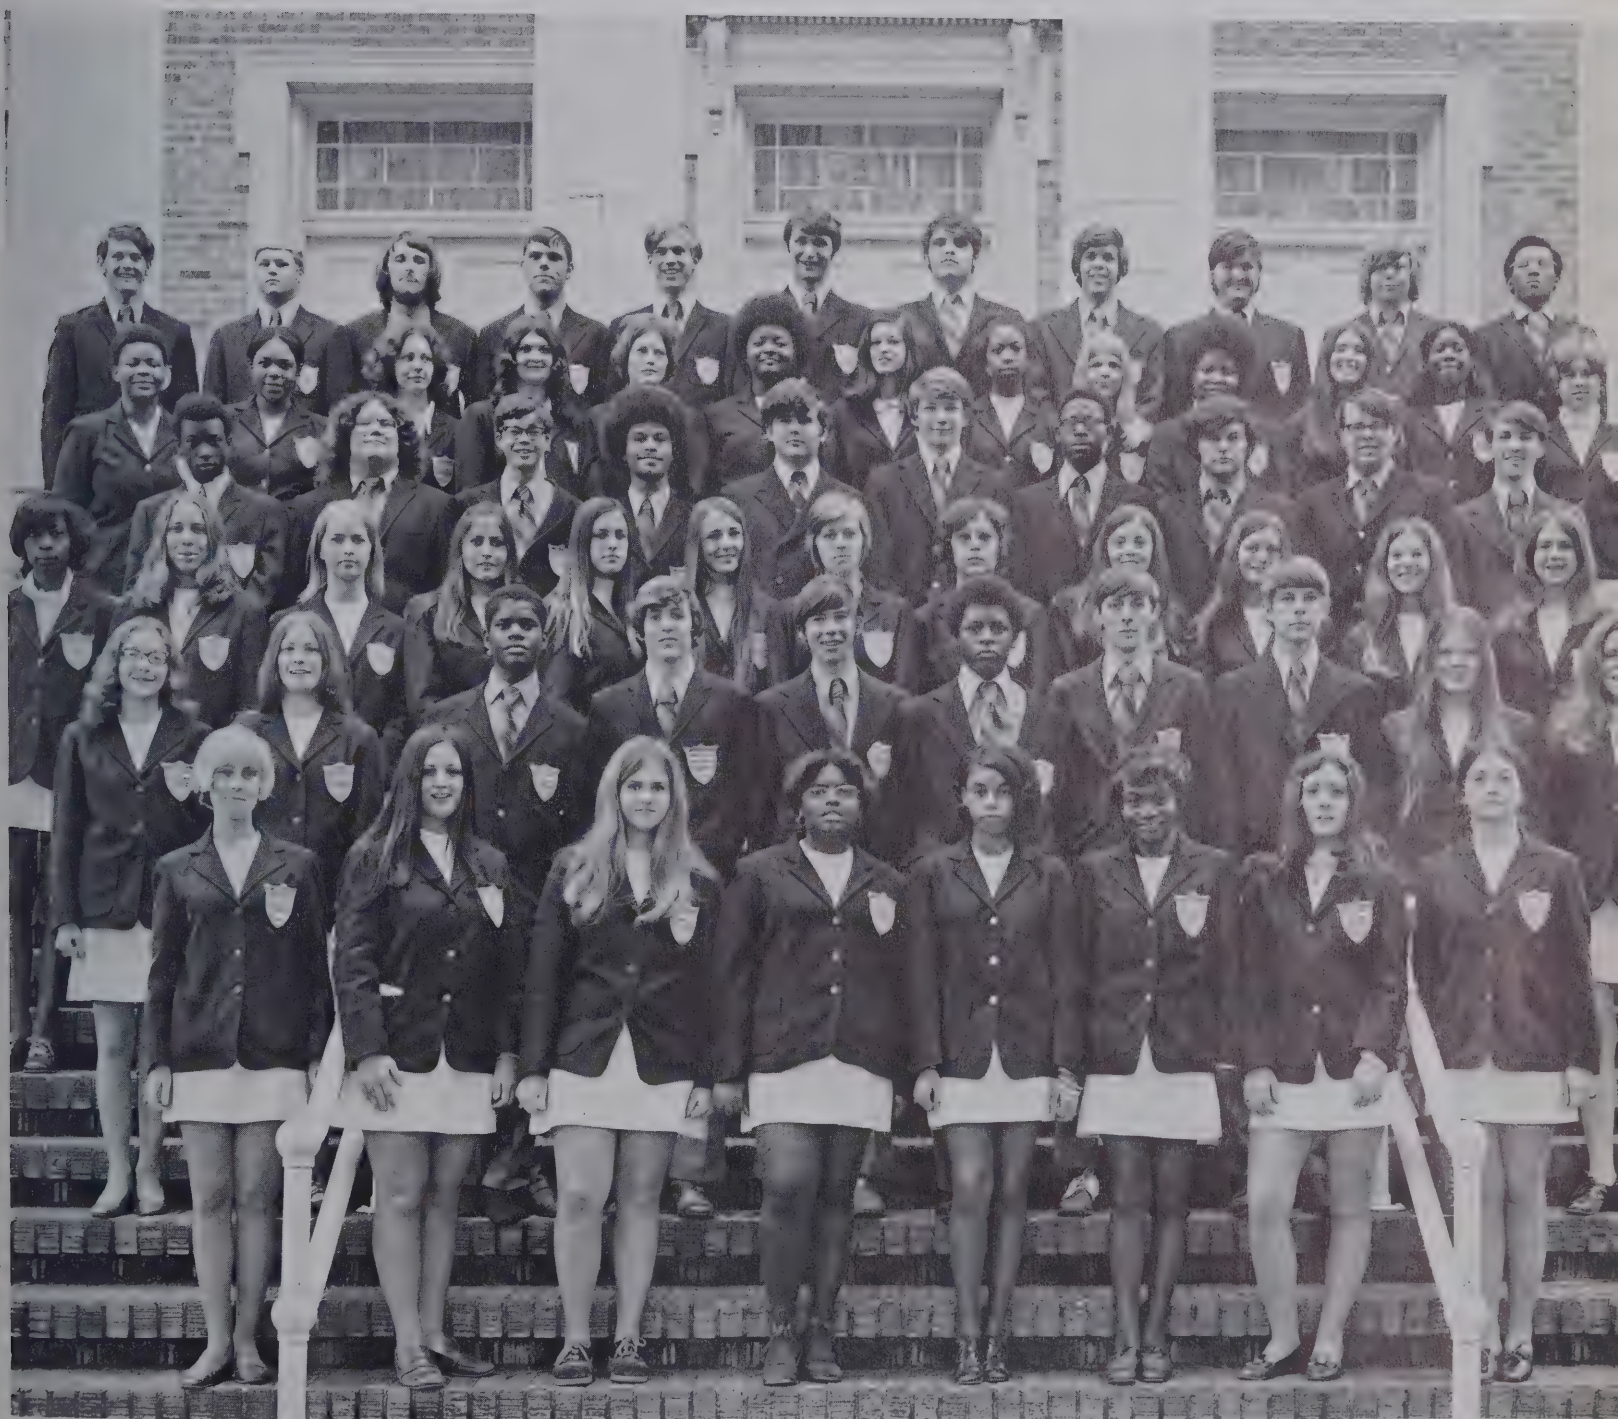

Annual Madrigal Dinner Concert

The sixty-eight members of Hanover Singers charmed audiences at several civic functions including the Kiwanis, Civitan, and Rotary Club luncheons besides giving their annual Christmas performance.

Dressed in 17th Century English costumes, members of the choral group and students from the 4E English class gave a Madrigal Dinner Concert that served one hundred and fifty guests.

Several singers journeyed to Greensboro for the Annual Spring Music Festival.

Boys' Chorus members Lee West, Gary Rowe, Rocky Rochelle, Ronald Aldridge, Glenn Addison, Major Rogers, Howard Jarrell, Ernest Bowden, Clifton Thomas, Willie Commander, Ben Liles and Melvin Williams try a folk number with Linda Goodson playing the guitar.

Elaine Bradley and Bobbie Alexander accompany the Girls' Chorus at a practice session.

Boys' Chorus members arriving at the Regional Music Workshop are Howard Jarrell, Tracy Shephard, Ricky Dennis, Ernie Tracy, Ben Liles, Ernest Bowden, and John Rogers.

Participate in Regional Workshop at UNC-W

Barbara King assists Girls' Chorus members Janie Wilson and Kim Hall with a new piece of music.

New Hanover's Choruses performed at a well attended Christmas Concert early in December. The groups created a holiday mood for the appreciative audience. On March 3, the Vocal Music Department attended the Regional Music Workshop at UNC-W. Several counties sent representatives. All groups participated with the entire assembly but did not perform for a rating.

The Introductory Chorus members are D. Sweat, H. Davis, L. Bannerman, C. Bullard, K. Constantine, M. Duckworth, A. Wroton, T. Campbell, B. Taylor, A. Jacobs, V. McCutchen, S. Taylor, B. Swain, L. Lindell, L. Goodson, G. Murray, K. Mazur, J. Westmoreland, G. Lawrence, M. Cox, A. Austin, B. Richardson, D. House, D. Malette, and B. Addison, led by Mrs. Jane Price at the Christmas Concert.

As a member of the McDonald's All-American Band, Wally McAdams leaves for New York and the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade.

Participates in Forty-Niners' Parade

Marching Band members Kirk Gruber, Gene Brady, Charlie Wall, Ann Foster, Victor Pearsall, Kayron Furguson, and Chuck Williford estimate receipts of their bottle drive.

Various extracurricular and community interests enabled band members to express themselves musically. Invited to attend the First Annual Forty-Niners' Festival in Charlotte, marching band members sponsored candy sales, bake sales, and a bottle drive to finance their trip. New Hanover and Hoggard stage bands shared a program of popular music, and the pep band enlivened crowds at pep rallies and basketball games.

THIRD ROW: Scott Gupton, Tom Buffington, James Utley, Anthon Wilson, Thad Davis, Bobby Austin.

Preparing to attend the State Band Contest, Mr. McAdams directs Harry Brunson, Lucy Elder, Wayne Peterson, and Deborah Fales, who remain after school for a woodwind section rehearsal.

Concert and Symphonic Bands and Orchestra combined to present two concerts. The Christmas concert, scheduled for Pearl Harbor Day, featured the commemorating selection, "Victory at Sea," performed by the Symphonic Band.

Having full instrumentation for the first time in thirty-six years, the Orchestra prepared to participate in the State Orchestra Contest, while the Symphonic Band anticipated attending the state Band Contest in March. Some Orchestra and Band members sought additional experience through the UNC-W community orchestra.

Majorettes Highlight Football Half Times

Majorettes: Ann Foster, Patricia Wallace, Paula Pittman, Cindy Horrell, Joyce Chestnut, Jennifer Jones.

Practicing three afternoons weekly, the majorette quintet, headed by Jennifer Jones, perfected routines to be performed at home football games. The majorettes, clad in orange and black sequined uniforms, introduced the Marching Band at Homecoming, Christmas, and Azalea Festival parades. They aided band members in money-raising projects and sponsored their own candy sales for trip expenses.

John Bowles and Dennis Todd purchase candy from majorettes Jennifer Jones and Patricia Wallace.

Drama Students Present Two Plays

Three members of the Drama Club displayed their theatrical talents in the Thalian's "Hello, Dolly!", produced in the fall. In March, Becky Owens and David Massey proved their acting abilities to the student body in the tragedy, "This Property is Condemned." Assisted with sets, makeup, and costumes by fellow drama students, six members of the drama class, playing multi-roles, presented "In White America" in the spring.

Sue-Anne Yeager, president of the Drama Club, rehearses for "Hello, Dolly!"

"You remember . . ." says Becky Owens as she practices her lines for "This Property is Condemned."

Assistants Benefit from Responsible

Responsible assistants reduced everyday work in great quantities. Six girls worked an hour daily at Pine Valley and Forest Hills Elementary Schools mimeographing, checking and stapling papers, leading P.E. exercises and games and helping students individually. Some assistants typed transcripts for guidance offices, checked A-V equipment in and out, helped prepare nursery children for their naps, meals and outdoor activity. Others cleaned the Student Union, checked books in and out in the library and delivered books and supplies from the bookroom. Besides checking papers, recording grades, setting up equipment for experiments, helping students during lab, and cleaning up, lab assistants made two aquariums to add beauty to the rooms as outside projects.

Library Assistant Anita Edmond thumbs through a new book as Martha Robeson checks out a book for Lee Milliken.

A-V aide Alice Reeves checks the picture on overhead projector to see if it is clear.

Jan Davis, Lee Doss, Rosa Parks, and Marian Stein have one of their busy days in the office.

Jobs around School

Nursery students and assistants Rosa Parks, Yvonne Canty, Pamela Jones, Marcella Boney, Arcina Jacobs, Arlene Watkins, Pat Miller, Joyce Chestnut and Diane Addison present a Halloween program for parents and friends in the Student Union.

Liz Wilson and Arcina Jacobs enjoy playing games with nursery children.

Lab assistant Ted Glod stands by to help Eddie White, Nell Clayton and Anthon Wilson with a chemistry experiment.

Assistants Contribute Time and Talent

Jo Ann Hannible aids the teacher by stapling finished classwork.

J. C. Corbett, Rozett Floyd, Arnia Floyd, and Janie Wilson clean up the Student Union after the fourth lunch period.

Drivers Work Overtime

Eulace Jones and Susan Malpass help Ann Lockamy clean her bus.

Daily, bus drivers transported hundreds of students to and from New Hanover County schools. They were responsible for the safety and disciplinary actions of each student assigned to their buses. Several bus drivers brought elementary students to Brogden Hall to enjoy the concert of the North Carolina Symphony for two days in February.

Eulace Jones, Donald Blackmon, Ann Lockamy, Elwood Campbell and Susan Malpass relax after bringing elementary students to hear the North Carolina Symphony in Brogden Hall.

Aerospace Students Form New Club

Aerospace students formed a new club which met every other Thursday afternoon. Receiving practical flying experience in conjunction with New Hanover County's Aeronautics, Incorporated, members operated airplanes on Wednesday afternoons and Saturday mornings. On Friday evenings, club members accompanied scheduled passenger flights.

Aerospace Club members from New Hanover and Hoggard listen attentively to Mr. Frank Duncan of Aeronautics, Incorporated.

NCAE Provides Fund For FTA

The North Carolina Association of Educators donated $100 to the Future Teachers of America club. Members made donations to the library, Learning Lab, and Special Education. Several members attended the Delta Kappa Gamma Tea honoring retired and future teachers at St. Andrews Covenant Presbyterian Church. At one meeting student teachers led a discussion about the philosophies of teaching and their experiences as student teachers. Working in the Resource Centers, helping other students, and assisting teachers were projects of FTA.

Bill Brown, Mark Grady, Chris Constanzo, advisor Mrs. Helen Younger, and Armond Ward discuss plans for donations.

Vocational Clubs

After donating four boxes of toys to New Hanover Memorial Hospital in December, VICA members visited the children and served refreshments in the Pediatric Ward. In January, VICA gave their free time to provide a luncheon for the teachers and administration in the cafeteria on the teacher's workday. To finance club projects, the members sold towel calendars, hand-made paper "poseys" and candy. Members received first-place awards for making the best vocational scrapbook and for public speaking in the district contest.

VICA members Mary Ann James, Ginger Colvin, Becki Hawkins, Yvonne Osborne, Debbie King, and Karen Lettley examine the two award-winning scrapbooks.

Sponsor Employer - Employee Banquet

DECA sold orange and black key chains to raise money for club activities. December became a busy month when members gave used toys and clothes to the Salvation Army, sent fruit baskets and gifts of hand lotion and after shave lotion to patients at the Fanny Norwood Nursing Home, and delivered a basket of canned foods to a needy family. DECA attended the annual Employer-Employee Banquet in March. Probably their most unique activity was a Fashion Show, held in Brogden Hall where models dressed in evening gowns and tuxedos suitable for the Junior-Senior Prom.

Dollie Beatty, the NHHS Miss DECA, enjoys her work at a local grocery store.

Preparing fruit baskets for the Nursing Home are William Loflin, Maureen Long, David Hardwick, Myra Murphy, and Gwen Lanier.

Linda Martin prepares to type a form by using a dictaphone at Retail Credit Company.

Co-operative Office Occupations prepares students entering the business world. School and airport offices, insurance companies and other co-operating business firms gave the twenty-four COO members their on-the-job training experience.

Money for the food baskets and toys at Thanksgiving and Christmas originated from a car wash, a bake sale and the sale of yearbook covers. Remaining funds helped to finance the Employer-Employee Banquet sponsored jointly with DECA and ICT members. Along with the banquet, the coffee hour held during Occupational Education Week enabled the students to mix business with pleasure.

Carolyn Sullivan wonders if she will finish typing insurance forms before five o'clock.

Rescue Squad Assists Health Careers Club

Robin Hoffman, Angie Clemmons, Debbie Block, Jane Orrell, Mary Barber, Susan Cook, Debbie Merrit, Barbara Price and Nancy Garrett carry the defeated "Bull", Sharon Blackman, in the Homecoming Parade.

New Hanover County School system has been granted the charter for the first Health Careers Club in eastern North Carolina. By having guest speakers such as Pat Vereen, x-ray technician, and Mrs. Linda Ranzaglia, physical therapist, the twenty-seven members investigated current medical careers and discoveries.

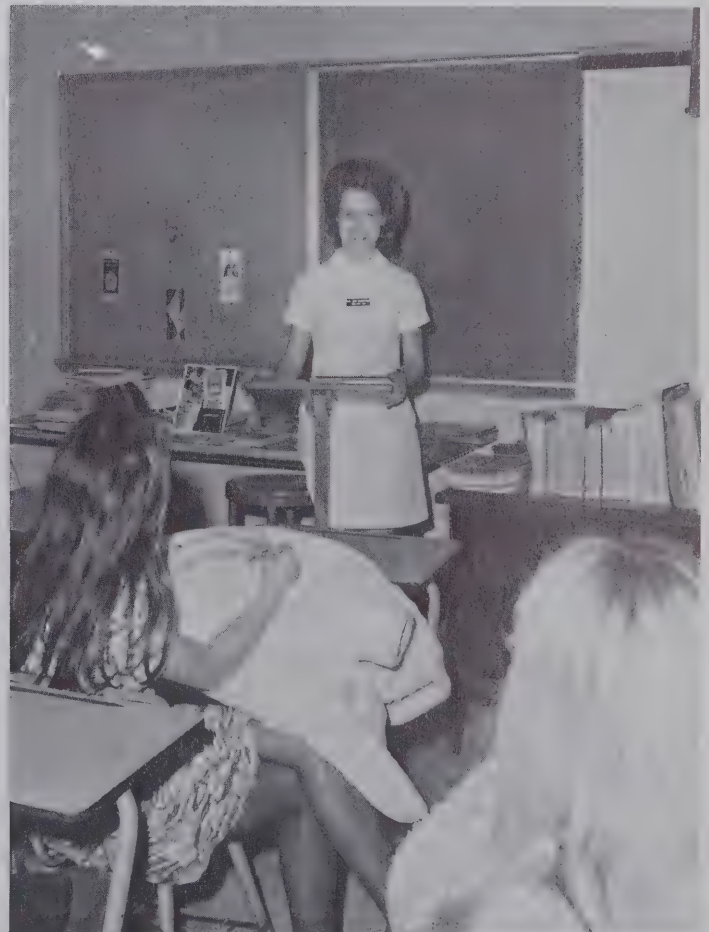

Selling doughnuts, stationery and Christmas candles provided the funds for the fifty-dollar contribution given to Ogden Rescue Squad for their participation in the Homecoming Parade and at a club meeting. Sales also provided for the food baskets and toys given by the members to a needy family at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

On one of the field trips taken by HCC, the Ogden Rescue Squad showed the members their equipment for emergency care.

During a meeting Elizabeth Batten presents a fifty-dollar contribution to Ogden Rescue Squad for supplying a stretcher and ambulance in the Homecoming Parade.

Inhalation therapist Jean Sanderson explains her work at HCC meeting.

Spanish Club Sponsors Language Week

Latin Club members, making long-range plans to attend the Latin Club Convention at Chapel Hill in April, sponsored a bottle drive in the fall to help finance their trip.

The Spanish Club planned a Christmas party for the nursery children which featured the breaking of the traditional Spanish pinâta. Members of the French Club prepared Christmas gifts for children in New Hanover Memorial Hospital.

Seeking another victory, Spanish club members challenged members of the French Club to their second annual bowling match.

Roselle Evenson and Marshall Foster give Christmas gifts to two smiling children at New Hanover Memorial Hospital.

Radio Clubs Encourage Student Hobbies

Jimmy Chappell acts as D. J. while Graham Moore and Stuart Gupton prepare for a candy sale.

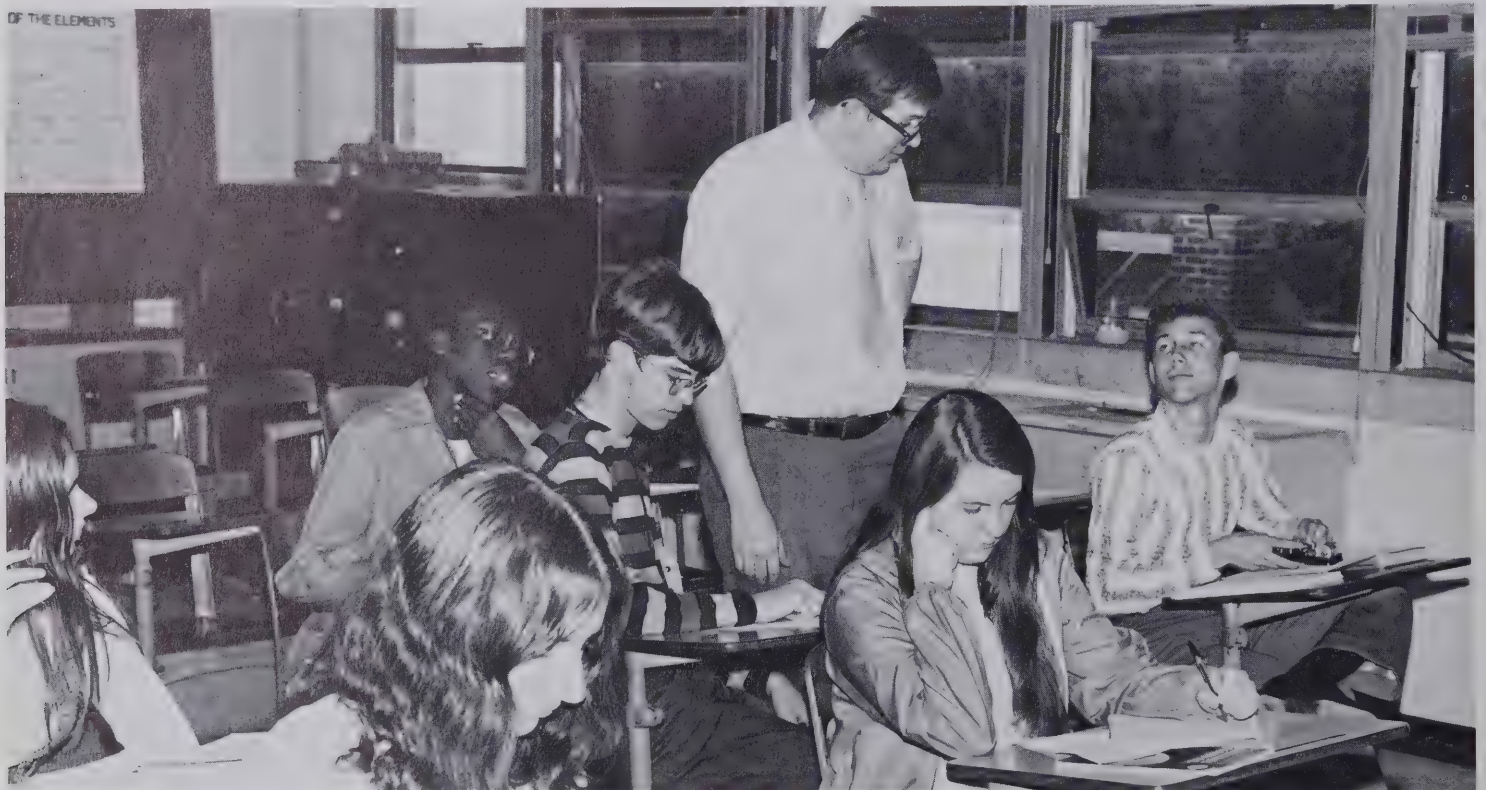

WILD Radio played rock and soul music for the students before school and during lunch in the Student Union. To raise money to purchase new speakers the five members sold candy.

After learning the Morse Code, ten Amateur Radio Club Members received their Ham-radio licenses.

Peter Rutten, Sam Barbee, and Becki Hawkins rewire speakers in the Student Union.

With the assistance of their advisor, Mr. Phil Burton, Tracy McKinnon, Bess Simons, Barry Cooper, Jimmy Cushing, Beth Turner, and Alvin Watkins study the Morse Code.

Argie Fragos, Jerry Feenstra, Robert Cannon, Doris Bailey, Phyllis Hixson, Denise McKoy and Donna Poole view the assorted stationery styles being sold by the Young Christian Students.

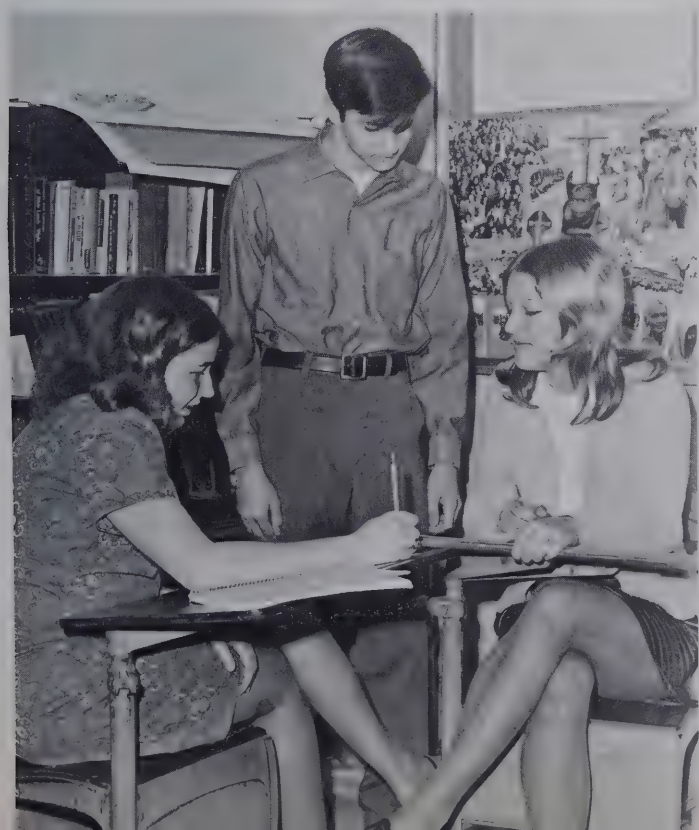

Young Christian Students Support War Orphan

A bake sale held during semester break and a stationery sale supplied funds for the support of a Korean War orphan. Members from the Young Christian Students visited and had prayer with the patients at the Medical Center Nursing Home.

For spiritual enrichment of the student body, the club sponsored five-minute devotional services each morning before homeroom. Mr. Stevens, faculty advisor, and club members led the devotions.

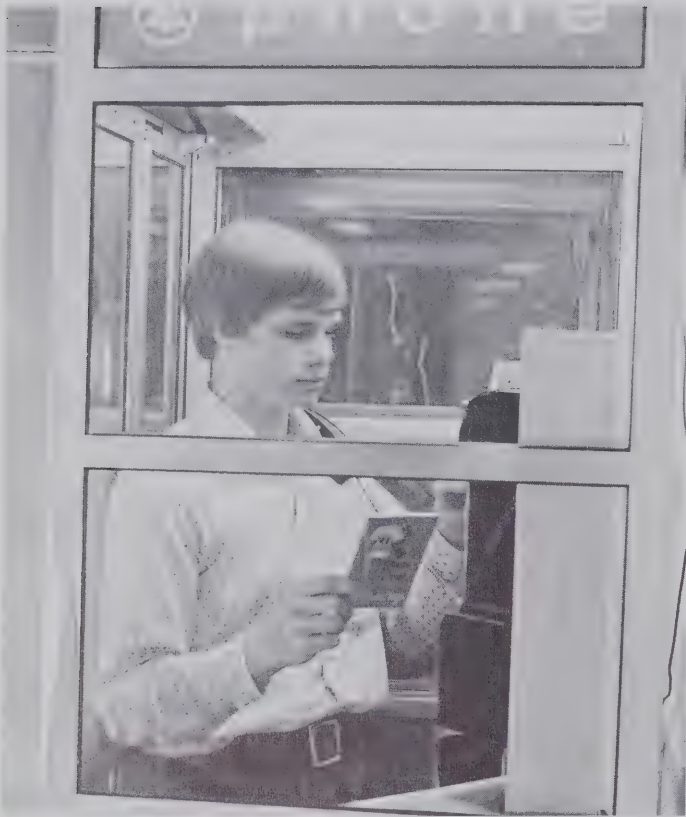

Climaxing the year, the club presented the Billy Hallyburton Award in honor of a former NHHS student to the most outstanding Christian student.

Jackie Miller, William Brown and Nanette Paul discuss plans for the presentation of the Billy Hallyburton Award.

Lynn Keith leads the discussion in morning devotions.

Student Publications Show

Pam Rhodes and Deborah Fales purchase telephone directory subscriptions from Elaine Bradley.

Co-chairmen and committee members worked after school and during lunch and study periods to produce the Telephone Directory. Distributed this year before Christmas, the publication contained the name, address, telephone number, and home-room of each student and teacher.

Co-chairmen, Lynn Gooch and Joy Clark, advise typists, Pat Thompkins, Diana Hartley, and Lee Milliken.

Organization and Creativity

Officers Nell Moore, Alicia Ayotte, Pat Conrad, and Graham Moore edit material for the second issue of the LIMAGON.

Mrs. Burton, advisor, and members of the LIMAGON staff sell the magazines during homeroom.

Two issues of the LIMAGON MAGAZINE provided an opportunity for students to display their art work and to exhibit their creative writing, which included poems, short stories, and essays.

The New Hanover Board of Education printed and financed the one thousand copies of the magazine.

Writing poetry for the LIMAGON are Pam Johnson and Donna Evans.

Homeroom Sales Increase Hanoverian

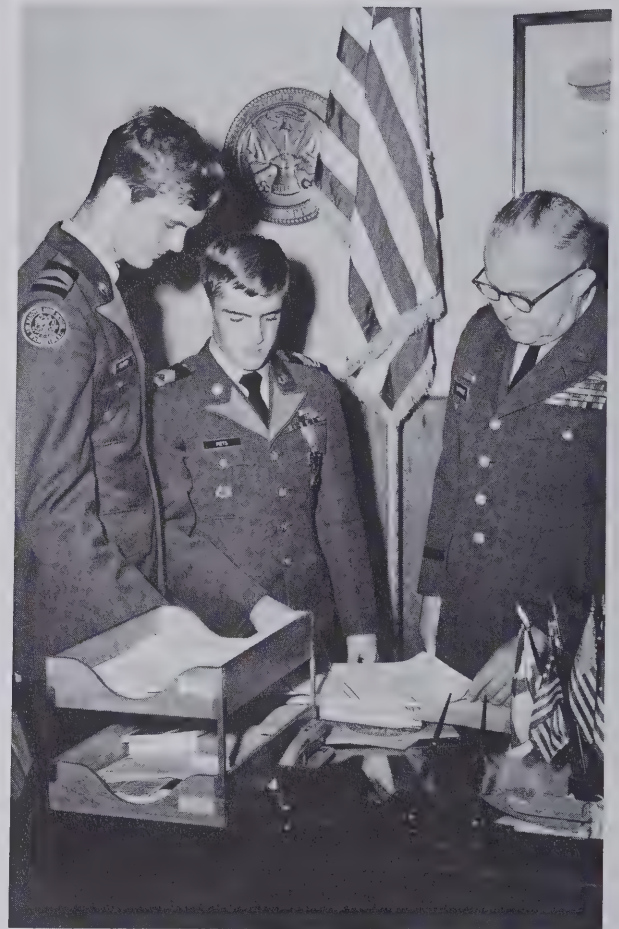

After selling subscriptions in the fall, HANOVERIAN Staffers got down to basics—selling ads, drawing layouts, taking pictures, and writing copy. Action poses replaced mug shots in the Academics Section and new organizations like the LIMAGON and the Aerospace Club replaced inactive groups in the Activities Section.

This year the new business manager accompanied the new editor and advisor to the SIPA convention in Athens, Georgia. Previously, the business manager has not been able to attend the convention. The group from New Hanover traveled in the new school station wagon.

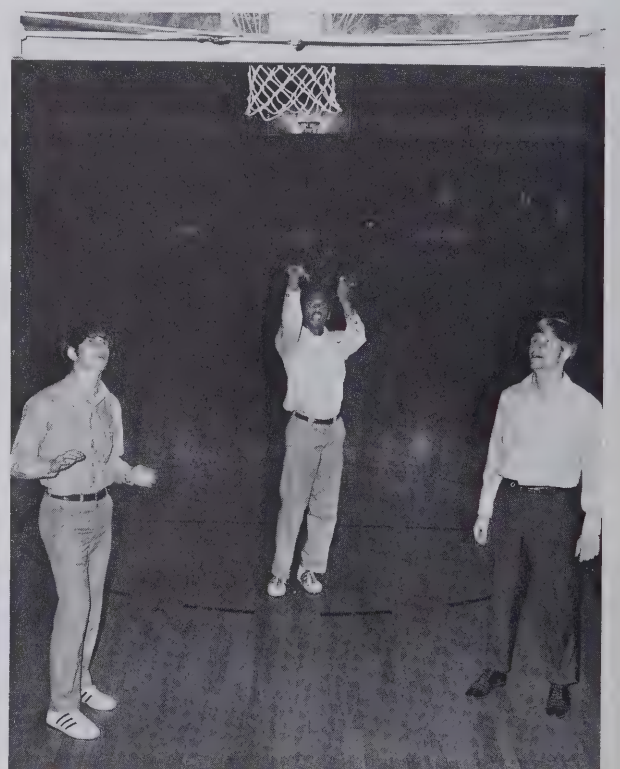

Academics Staff Mary Kate Spencer, Sydney Culbreth and Tony Creech play with dinosaurs while waiting to gain information about the copy from Mr. Hal Stout.

Seven Game Winning Streak

Co-captains Keith West and Lynn Slappy represent the 'Cats for the toss of the coin.

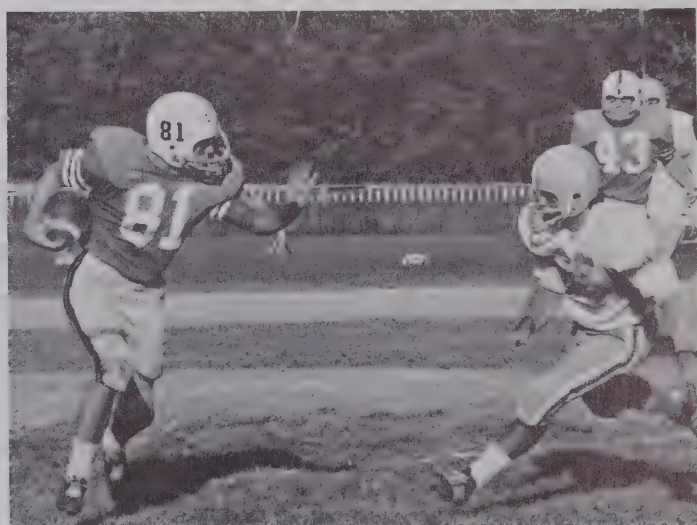

Larry Bullard kicks off to Greenville.

Despite three disappointing losses early in the season, the Cats bounced back and destroyed Kinston and Hoggard the following two weeks.

The Wildcats whipped their next five opponents in succession. The 7-6 victory over Sanford clinched the Division I football title for New Hanover, but an undefeated Wilson team ended the Cats' quest for a state championship.

Glenn Sasser and Pete Crane's team featured an outstanding running attack and tenacious defense. Their opponents could neither effectively stop the Cats from running nor break their balanced defense.

Post-season awards were given to Fred Sidberry, Keith West, Bill Greenwood, Lynn Slappy, and Swain Smith. Larry Bullard and Fred Sidberry were elected to the Eastern Conference all-star team and Sidberry also received the honor of starting in the North-South Shrine game.

Voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates, Keith West heads upfield after taking a pitchout.

The Wildcats score another touchdown against Hoggard.

Wildcat Gridders Receive Honors

This year's Best Lineman Award is presented to Defensive standout Fred Sidberry by Coach Peter Crane.

'Cat standout Keith West receives the Wallace I. West Sportsmanship Award from Mr. West.

Because of his outstanding leadership, junior quarterback Scott Dickens receives the Trey Barrett Award from Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Barrett.

Wildkittens Rally To Post Respectable Record

The Kittens started slowly this year due to injuries and other problems, but finished the year with a respectable 3-4-1 record.

After a loss to Rocky Mount, the J.V.'s coached by Bill Hardee and Lyn Clayton, tied a powerful Jacksonville team and broke into the winning column by shutting out Goldsboro and Kinston. The Kittens had a series of losses to Hoggard, Ross, and Smith, but rounded out the season by crushing Sanford 48-26.

Soccer Team Wins Regionals, but loses in State

Jimmy Soles attempts to shoot the ball downfield against the Hoggard defense.

NHHS swept through the regular season in preparation for the Eastern Regionals. In the matches against Hoggard, New Hanover gained the advantage in this newest rivalry with a win and a tie in the two matches. In the regionals against Buies Creek and Hoggard, the Wildcats were declared winners on corner kicks in both matches and earned a trip to the state playoffs.

Although the soccer team compiled an impressive 7-2-1 record, the end of the season proved to be a major disappointment to the players. The Wildcats lost to Concord in their second consecutive bid for a state championship after capturing their third regional title.

Tom Buffington moves the ball downfield against the Hoggard defense.

Strong Track Squad Returns for New Hanover

Sloan, K. Burns, J. Robbins, J. Worrell, C. Furr, K. West, L. Bullard, M. McLean, F. Sidberry.

Larry McFadden paces the other runners in the one mile run.

The New Hanover Track and Field Team was blessed with one of the most experienced squads in recent years with Mike Prevatte, Robert Powers, Fred Sidberry and David Stubbs. Some very impressive newcomers, such as Larry McFadden and Sam Tomlin, promised to provide a spark for the season.

The Cats began on the right foot by beating Penderlee and White Oak, but a heartbreaking loss to Hoggard put a slight damper on the team's enthusiasm. However, the Wildcats expected an improvement over last year's record.

Fred Sidberry gets set for a shot put.

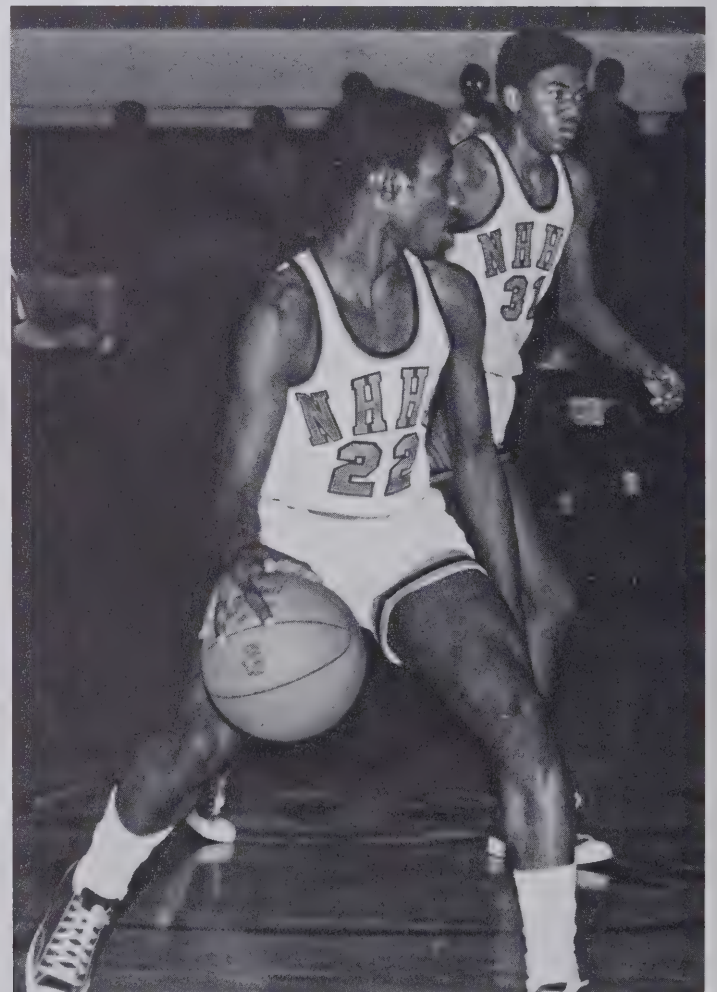

Wildcats Finish with 12 - 8 Record

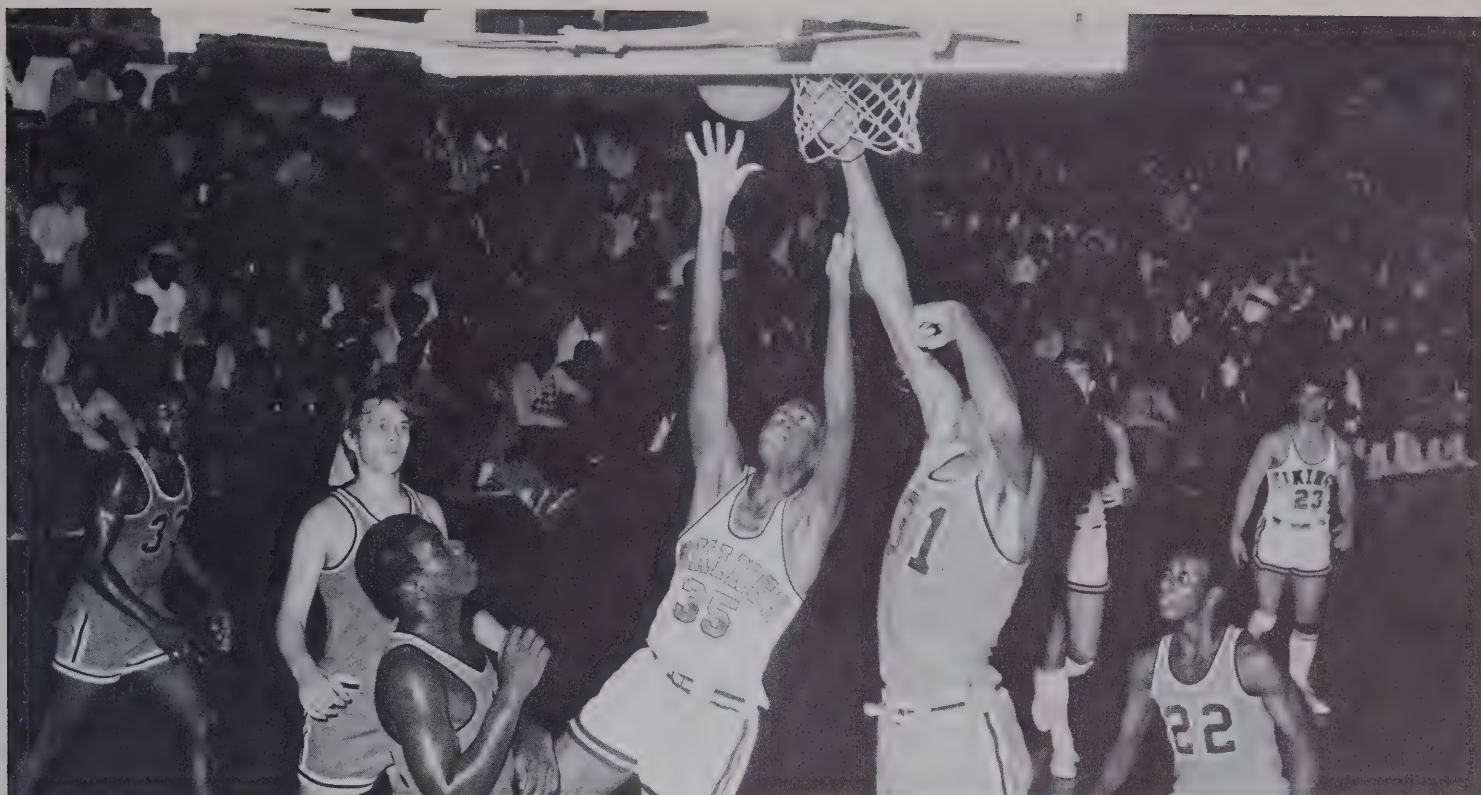

FIRST ROW: E. Bowden, F. Brock, B. Brock, J. Stevens, J. Cushing (manager). SECOND ROW: L. Slappy, E. McLamb, J. Thomas, S. Robinson. BACK ROW: R. Harris, F. Rogers, R. Pickett, R. Prosser, R. Pope.

The 'Cats started the season by winning nine of their first ten games, including seven in a row. Their impressive 12-8 record was due to a well-balanced team effort. Senior Fennell Rogers was the Wildcat's leading scorer. Randy Harris and Sam Robinson, backed up by Randy Pickett, Eric McLamb, and Ruggles Pope, supplied the board strength. Rogers and Jimmy Thomas, aided by Ernest Bowden, Bill Brock, and Lynn Slappy, supplied the outside punch. Randy Prosser and occasional starter Jimmy Stevens directed the attack from the point position.

In an exciting encounter with the Hoggard Vikings, the 'Cats showed great poise in winning a 64-62 decision.

Kittens Find Season Frustrating

The "Kittens" lost several hard fought games enroute to their disappointing 3-17 record. Although out distanced in the end, the JV's showed great drive and determination against taller and stronger opponents. Many defeats were by only 2 point margins. This year's season did not dampen the varsity's hopes of some much needed help from the Wild Kittens, who have gained valuable experience this year.

Cats Round Out Excellent Season by

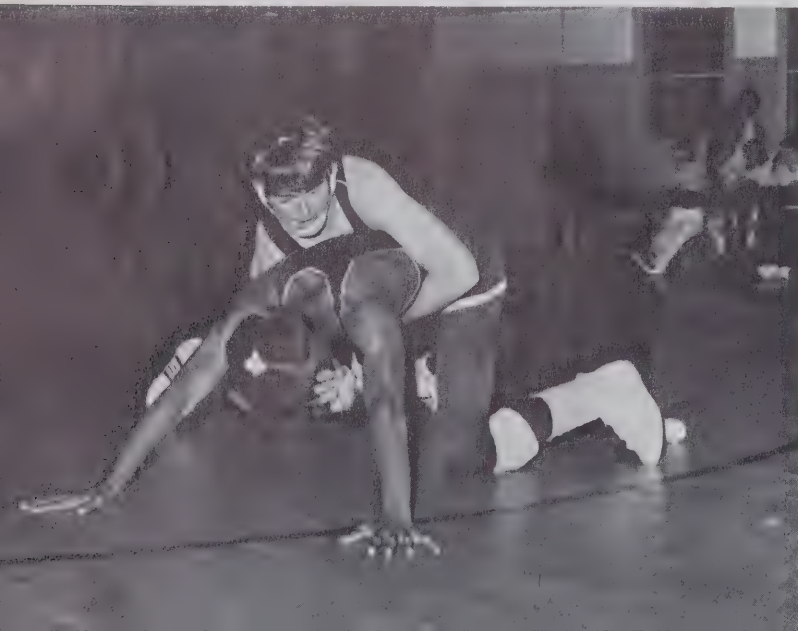

Wildcat grappler Tommy Lee controls his opponent during the victory over Hoggard.

Despite their inexperience, the NHHS wrestlers still had an outstanding season. Although there rarely more than two seniors starting in any match, New Hanover compiled a 9-3 regular season mark prior to handily winning the Division I title. The Wildcat grapplers followed this victory with a second-place finish in the Sectional Tournament.

Six 'Cat wrestlers earned the right to compete in the state tournament because of their outstanding performances. Keith Hulbert, Donald Merrick, Liberace Wilson, and Bill Hickman, who was the most valuable wrestler in the Division tournament, were considered strong contenders in their weight classes. Keith Hulbert emerged from this competition with his second state championship.

Girls Learn New Techniques Through Practice

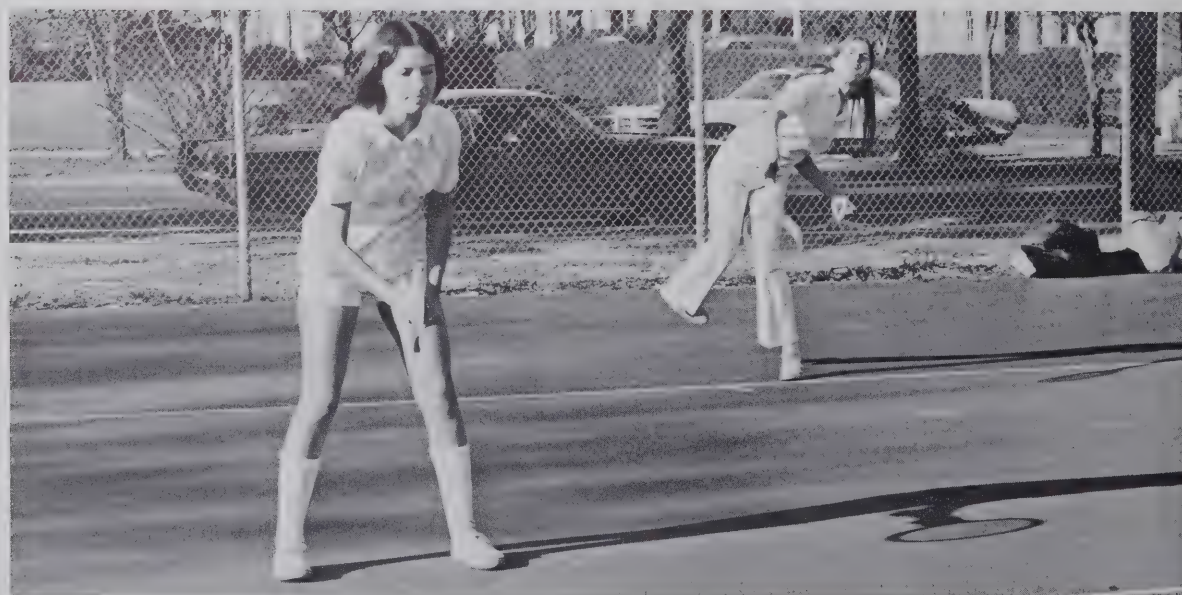

FIRST ROW: S. Jackson, V. Murray, K. Bowker, T. Martin, D. Simmons, SECOND ROW: K. Carter, L. Wight, J. Horton, J. McKeown, B. Day, Mrs. Young, K. Knapp, P. Phillips, B. Burris, N. Paul.

The girl's tennis program under the direction of Mrs. Cathy Young, lacked the overall experience and strength of last year's team. The girls were scheduled to play several area teams, including Hoggard, Kinston, and Terry Sanford.

Kathy Bowker earned the number one seeding on the team. The other top players in order of their respective standing were Kathy Knapp, Debbie Simmons, Terri Martin, Peggy Phillips, and Lee Wight.

Kathy Bowker moves to the net for a volley.

And Division I For The Wildcats

A veteran squad produced a fine 15-5 record on their way to another Division I title. The experience at each position gave the 'Cats a stable defense behind the hurling of regular starters, Mike Merritt and Randy Prosser. Backing these pitchers were Wendy Joye and Danny Morris.

The Wildcats exhibited some inconsistency in their run production, although the squad averaged nine runs per game for the season. One accomplishment of the 1971 team which must surely be regarded in the annals of NHHS athletics as astounding was the 41-0 triumph over Reid Ross of Fayetteville.

This past season saw sophomore catcher Randy Ourt lead the squad in hitting with a .421 average, followed closely by Mike Merritt with a .413 average. Several other players also posted fine averages over .300 for the year.

This year's team also featured many seniors who had a successful year for the junior varsity squad last year.

Concentrating intently, Swain Smith waits for the pitch.

Wildkittens Finish Season With Perfect Mark

Junior varsity baseball had another successful year as the 1971 squad finished the season with a perfect 11-0 mark. The backbone of the team was a group of juniors who provided a blend of youth and experience.

Andy Tysinger and Sonny LaMarsh handled most of the pitching assignments which allowed fifty runs during the season. In contrast, the Wildkittens overpowered their opponents with a total of 150 runs. The .379 team batting average was attained through the solid, consistent hitting of many players. Andy Tysinger, Dennis Esselman, and David Bridges finished with averages of .500 or better. Five other players compiled averages over .400 for the victorious Wildkittens.

Shortstop Jimmy Southerland crosses the plate with another wildkitten run.

Experienced Juniors Dominate Golf Team

David Gupton holds the pin as Charlie Roberts putts.

This year's golf team was composed of a large number of juniors. There was only one senior among the top seven golfers. John Strawn and David Gupton were two of the more promising juniors.

The golf team showed its youth early in the season. Although winning several early matches, they failed to exhibit the consistent play needed to compile a successful record.

John Strawn carefully lines up a putt.

ROTC

Friday morning flag raising.

Twenty-one gun salute on Veterans' Day.

Battalion

Staff

All functions of the Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps are co-ordinated through the Battalion Staff Headquarters under the command of Lt. Colonel Steve Ray. Cadet Major Steve Edwards, the Battalion Executive Officer, and Cadet Major Jimmie Spivey, the Battalion S-3, assisted the Battalion Commander with the work.

Duties of the twenty-two members of the staff included making training schedules, absentee reports, Officer-of-the-day rosters, and keeping personnel files up to date.

The Staff leads the Battalion to Thirteenth and Ann Streets for a formation.

Spring and summer recruiting programs last year helped to fill the ranks of ROTC. During the spring, members of the Cape Fear Rifles traveled to junior high schools to perform in exhibitions, and in the summer cadets called future prospects to encourage them to join ROTC. These recruiting programs helped keep up enrollment, and ROTC contained approximately one hundred seventy-five cadets.

A Special Forces team from Fort Bragg came to NHHS to conduct Operation Ranger with forty volunteer cadets. Due to bad weather, the exercise took place in and around the National Guard Armory instead of the original site, Masonboro Island. The members of the Special Forces team taught classes on the assembly and disassembly of weapons, building rope bridges, survival, and handling rafts.

Although this was the first operation of this type, others will probably be scheduled.

Colonel Jones, a member of General Westmoreland's Washington staff, came to visit the troops at a battalion formation. During his visit many officers and NCO's received promotions.

During the fall the cadet corps participated in parades for Homecoming and Veterans' Day. A special detail consisting of members of the Cape Fear Rifles and sponsors performed at the Holiday Carnival, the replacement for the Christmas Parade this year.

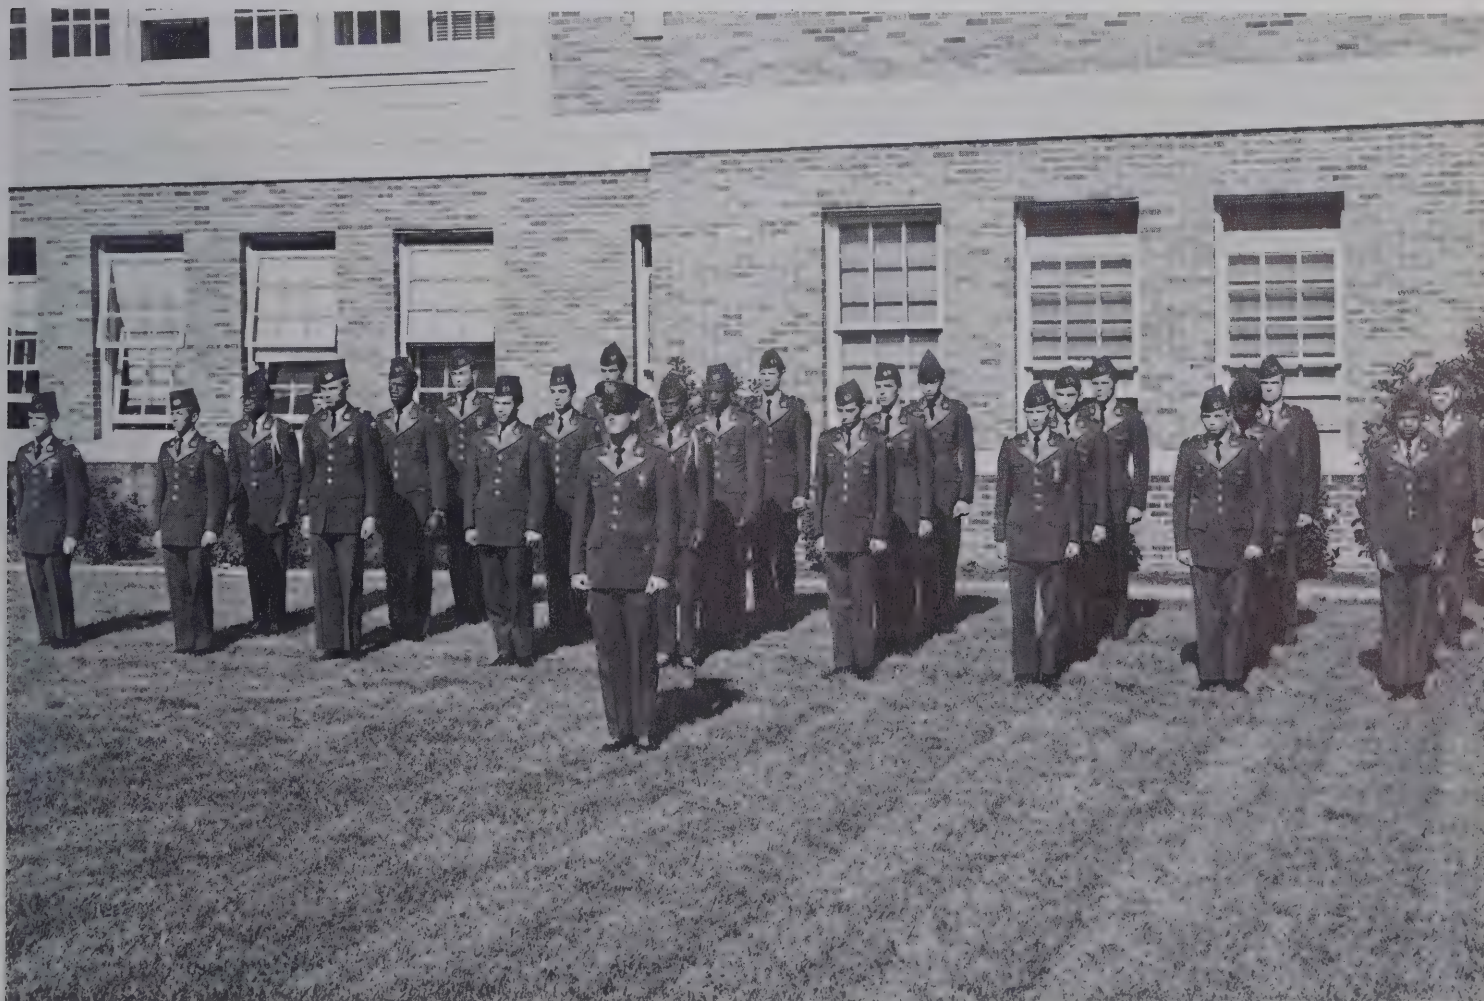

Representatives from N. C. State and The Citadel conducted recruiting programs to encourage more cadets to apply for ROTC scholarships. These representatives were students themselves who told about actual campus life.

A large number of cadets came to the annual ROTC Ball at Timme Plaza in mid-February. Cadets and their dates danced on the crowded floor to the music of the Bill Eliot Quintet.

After the Ball, Officers and NCO's attended a breakfast at Whitey's Elberta Restaurant.

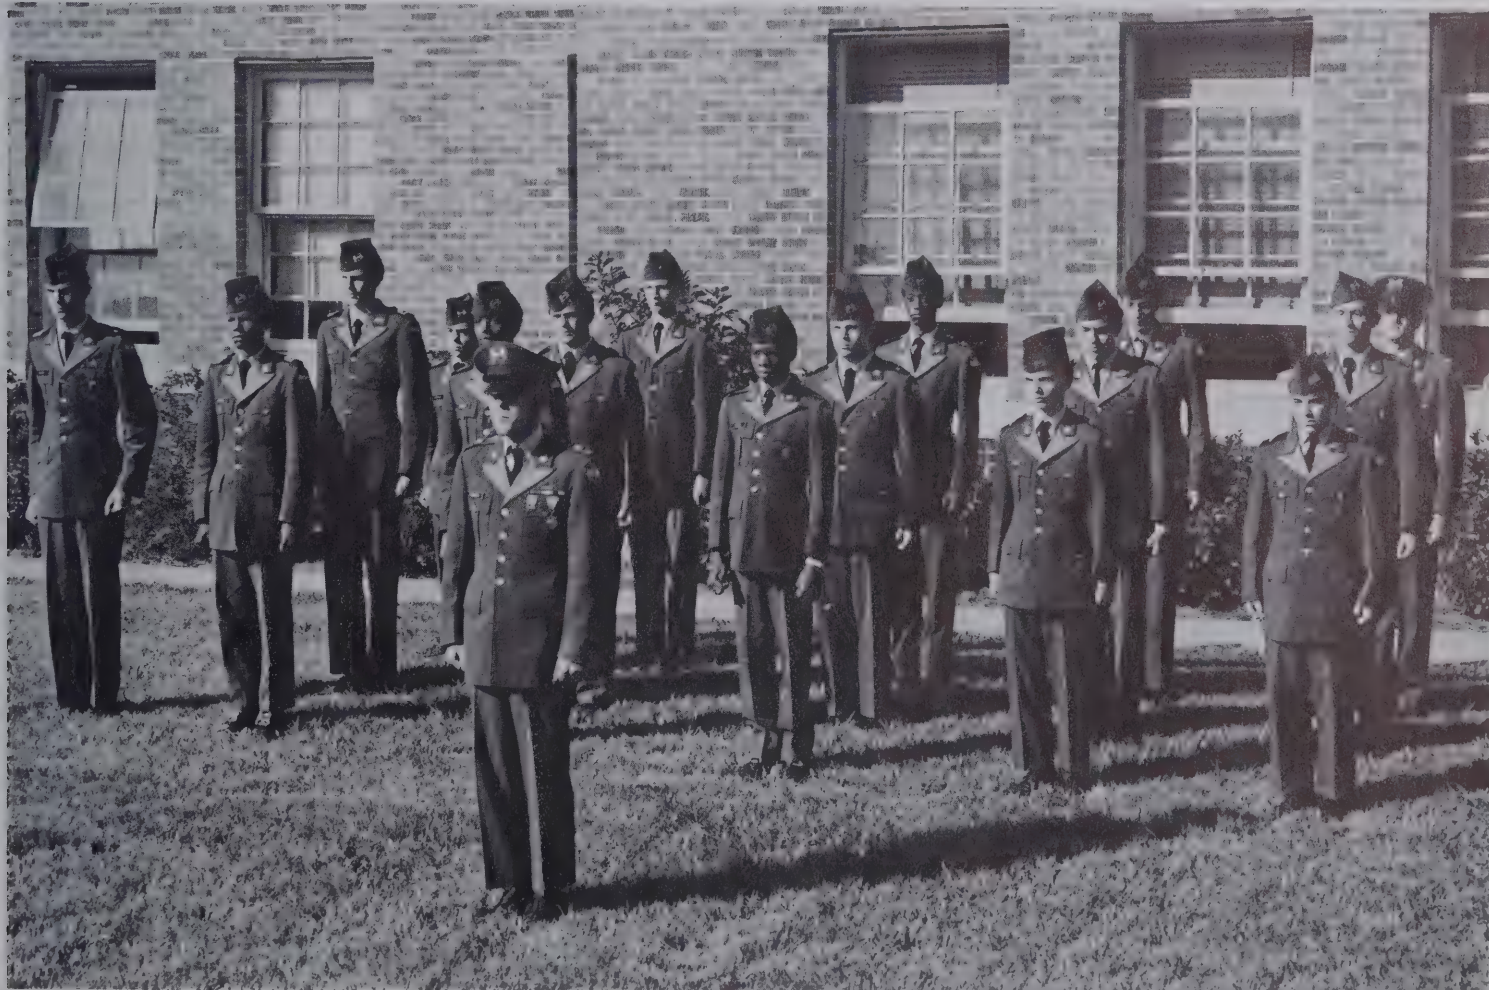

Spring brought cadets much work. Before marching in the Twenty-fifth Azalea Parade, cadets received their annual Federal Inspection. Cadets worked hard cleaning up the ROTC building and preparing their uniforms for the inspection in ranks. This inspection determined if the school would keep their honor rating as it has done since 1938.

As the year passed, cadets thought about such things as the baseball champions and company-of-the-year trophies. Many cadets looked forward to the Honor's Day program. Awards given on Honor Day are the Department of the Army, American Legion, Best Drilled Squad, Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution, and the Cape Fear Sword which is the highest award that a cadet can earn.

Drum and Bugle Corps

Daily practice and training developed a fine Drum and Bugle Corps which provided drum cadence and music for the cadets during battalion formations and ceremonies. Eleven drummers with tenor, snare, and bass drums made the backbone of the unit while six buglers joined in with the melody of soprano bugles.

Cape Fear Rifles Commander Kenneth McDade, Executive Officer Jackie Robinson, Guidon Bearer Larry Goodson.

Cape Fear Rifles

Thirty hardworking volunteers made up the Cape Fear Rifles. Many people viewed their precision at the NHHS Homecoming Parade, ROTC Ball, Christmas Festival, and Azalea Parade. Of major importance was the entry in the drill team competition held at N. C. State in Raleigh April eighth. In the spring, the Color Guard and Rifles went to D. C. Virgo Ninth Grade Center for a flag raising ceremony and recruiting program.

At the ROTC Ball drill team members form a circle with Larry Musslewhite and Aaron Larkins executing exchange arms.

Rifle Team

Edward Cooke and Steve Edwards demonstrate the correct position to fire in the standing position.

Every year the JROTC units of the seven Army Areas have area rifle matches in which they mail their targets to the Army headquarters to determine the top one-third units of the area. To get ready, the Rifle Team shot matches against Carolina Military Institute and Reid Ross JROTC. To determine their National rating, these top one-third units shot another postal match. NHHS Rifle Team rates twenty-second out of seventy-seven schools qualified to shoot.

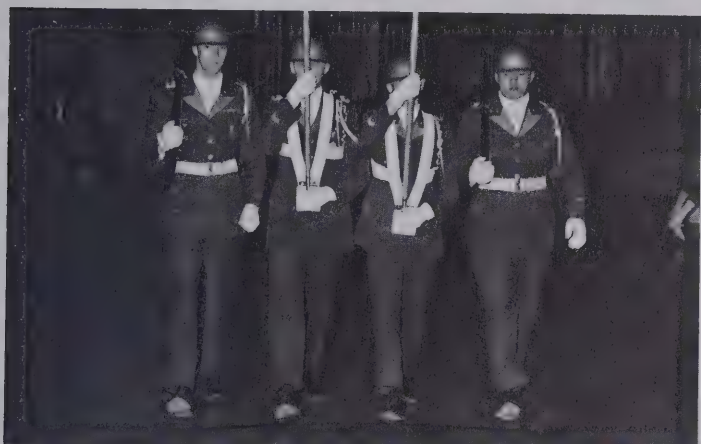

Rifle team members relax while in the prone position.

Color Guard

Under the direction of SFC Billy Edwards, the Color Guard represented the ROTC at many varied functions. Colors participated in Veterans' Day, Homecoming and Azalea Parades. Color Guard members presented the Colors at the annual Principals' Meeting held at Timme Plaza this year and performed at some home football and basketball games.

Colors perform at NHHS-Hoggard basketball game.

NCO Club

Early in the year the thirty-three members of the NCO Club elected SFC Steve Coleman President and SFC Lorenzo Underwood Vice-President. Members attended meetings twice a month, and the highlight of the year was the breakfast held at Whitey's after the ROTC Ball.

Officer's Club

Members of the Officers Club provided the ROTC Cadet Corps with a very memorable ball. To take care of all duties, the club formed committees to plan, decorate, provide refreshments, and clean up. Each cadet going to the ball paid three dollars to cover expenses. After the "call to quarters", the club assembled at Whitey's Restaurant for the traditional Officers' Breakfast.

ACADEMICS

Administrators Make

Billy L. Mason, who assumed the duties of Principal for the first time in 1971, led a busy schedule from Principals' Conferences to Madrigal Dinners, ball games, and banquets. In March he attended the National Principals' Association Conference in Anaheim, California as a delegate from North Carolina.

Associate Principal Joe Crutchfield worked endlessly throughout the year with schedules, records, and student activities. Mrs. Anna Burnett not only served as Assistant Principal in charge of Human Relations but also had the tremendous task of Student Government Advisor. Ralph Waddell, an Assistant Principal, handled disciplinary problems with a firm, but understanding hand. Assistant Principal Mrs. Joyce Weathers ordered instructional supplies, organized substitutes, and solved many personnel problems.

New Hanover County Board of Education members Mr. Emsley Laney, Mr. George Clark, Mrs. Vera Shands, Dr. Heyward Bellamy, Superintendent of County Schools, Mr. Lamar McIver, and Dr. John Codington assemble in the John T. Hoggard Library for their monthly meeting.

Smooth Transitions to High School Atmosphere

Mrs. Anna Burnett, Assistant Principal, studies discussion topics at the Leadership Workshop sponsored by the Wilmington Youth Council.

Individual conference is a necessary part of Mr. Ralph Waddell's job as Assistant Principal.

To relax after school, Mrs. Joyce Weathers, Assistant Principal, tries out her son's nifty, thrifty, Honda 450.

Typing instructors, Miss Sarah Fowler and Mrs. Mary Williams, spend their time after school planning lessons and filling out student records.

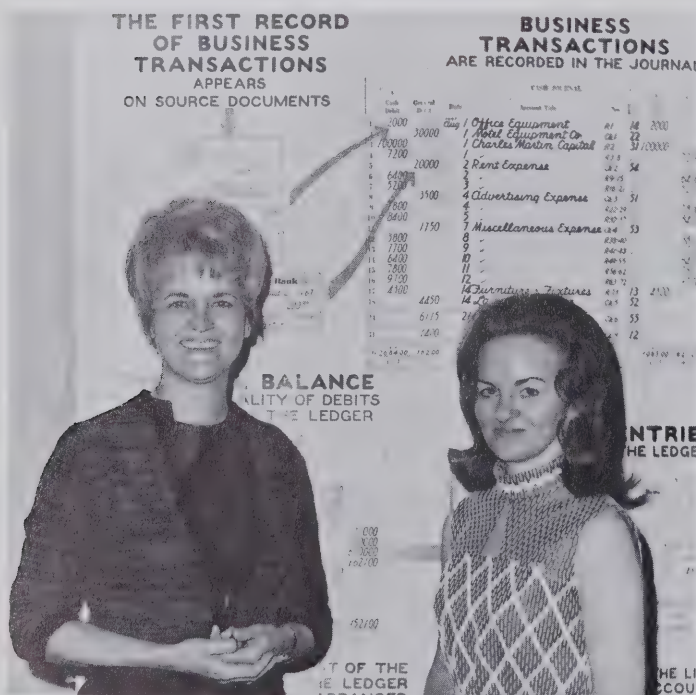

Head of the Business Department, Mrs. Mary Hood, prepares Cooperative Office Occupations forms.

Business Courses Attract Interest

Approximately one half of the student body participated in courses in the business department. Classes met daily in Basic Business, Office Practice, Typing, Shorthand, and Bookkeeping. Field trips to various local industries enlightened class studies during the year. Civil Service Exams were administered at the school for the students' convenience.

Mrs. Nell Hunnicutt, Shorthand I, 2, and Typing I, approves as Terri Borneman practices her typing skills.

Bookkeeping teachers, Mrs. Maybell Courie and Mrs. Olean Taylor, use visual aids for instruction.

Tensely observing a basketball game is Coach Rick Stewart, Basic Business, Typing, Economics, and Sociology.

Assigning room numbers at college entrance exams is a regular task of Mrs. Barbara Stanley, Counselor.

Counseling Offices Remain Busy

Guidance Counselors aided students with business, college, and personal plans. Senior counselors were kept busy completing transcript forms and advising students with plans for after-graduate study and jobs. Sophomore and Junior counselors helped students with college entrance exams and program planning. Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests and National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests combined nationally for students' convenience.

Senior Guidance Counselor, Mrs. Evelyn Doughty, consults the files for transcript information.

Mr. William McClammy, Junior Counselor, and Mrs. Lettie Merrick, Sophomore Counselor, discuss PSAT scores with Tommy Lee.

Bible Students Explore Jesus Movement

Mr. Ray Stevens taught the Bible classes this year at New Hanover and Hoggard High Schools. First year students obtained general knowledge of the Old and New Testaments, while second year students made a closer study of the Testaments.

Each class correlated the current Jesus movement on college campuses, on and off Broadway musicals, and today's popular music with their studies. Classes enjoyed listening to and discussing recordings such as "Godspell" and "Jesus Christ Superstar."

Mr. Ray Stevens, Bible 1 and 2, listens attentively as students discuss lyrics to off-Broadway musical "Godspell."

English Department

Mrs. Elsie Mullinix, English 2 and Humanities 2, steadies the ladder for Miss Marsha Bryant, English 2, Speech, and Drama, as she sets the stage for a new production.

Mrs. Margaret Geary, Humanities 3 and English 3, examines the tombstone of Thomas Godfrey, the first American dramatist.

Taking a break from their classes, Mrs. Diane Burton, English 4 and Humanities 4, and Mr. Michael Murchison, English 2, Sociology, and Economics, watch the tennis team practice after school.

Mrs. Linda Shaw, English 3 and Humanities 3, and Mrs. Elizabeth Lane, senior English class.

Participates in State Department of Public...

New Hanover's English Department participated in the State Department of Public Instruction's "Poetry in the School Project." Mr. Randall Ackley spent one week discussing modern poetry with senior English and Humanities Classes. Students and teachers agreed that the program was a new and original experiment.

Although teachers agreed to put forth the extra effort to offer mini-courses second semester, the project died due to students' lack of interest. Instead, field trips offered students a variance from classroom routine. Mrs. Burton's Humanities Class camped overnight on Bald Head Island and the junior Humanities classes toured Tryon Palace in New Bern.

With an increase in equipment and personnel this department grew to be the largest and one of the most versatile of the school. Students needing individual help found teacher coaches available in the Resource Center.

Mrs. Helen Younger, English 2, congratulates Mr. Lyn Clayton, English 4 and Humanities 4, on a big win for the Wildkittens as Mr. Younger looks on.

English 4 and Journalism, examine a student project from Mr. James Potter's Instruction's "Poetry in the School Project"

Mrs. Joyce Bachner, Miss Virginia Pompei, and Mrs. Brookie Danbom, Resource Center teachers in the English Department, share an article in a professional magazine.

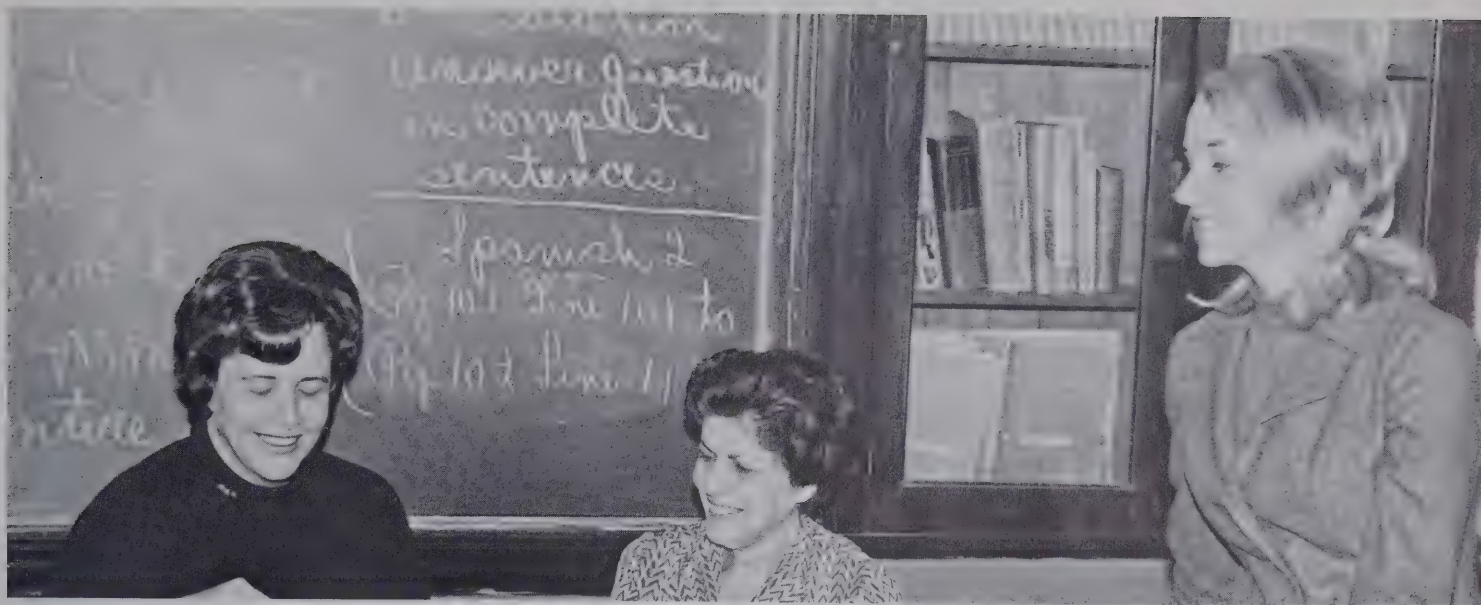

Mrs. Mary Morgan, English 3 and Humanities 3, opens candy boxes for the Junior Class candy sale.

Mrs. Maggie Jenkins, English 3 and 4, Mrs. Allie Brewington, English 3, and Miss Samantha Townsend, English 2 and 3, enjoy refreshments at Mrs. Morgan's going away party.

Miss Patricia Freeman, English and Reading, discusses lesson plans with her student assistant, Armond Ward.

Instructors in the Spanish Department, Mrs. Jamie Ports, Mrs. Maria Gonzalez, and Mrs. Catherine Young, listen to Spanish conversation tapes.

Spanish Classes Study Romantic Poetry

French, Latin, Spanish, and German courses were a part of the foreign language program this year. Studies centered around conversation, verb conjugation, and memorization. French 4 classes translated a play in the spring with their student teacher. Romantic poetry was the subject of the studies of Spanish classes.

Mrs. Lucie Fryar, Latin and English 4, seems amused at a student's response.

French teachers, Mrs. Jean Tillett and Mrs. Elizabeth West, ride together to a French-Spanish Club bowling match.

Eighteen Year Olds

Social Studies teachers, Mrs. Ruth Leeper and Miss Betty Walker evaluate students' grades.

Keeping track of Student Union finances is the job of Mr. James Sterling, as well as teaching World History and Contributions of Minority Cultures.

Speakers Visit Math

The math department offered courses in algebra, geometry, consumer math, and advanced math to over three-fourths of the student body. One course, Basic Math, was offered for the first time to help those students having problems in math first semester.

Speakers visited classrooms and discussed career opportunities in engineering, physics, and architecture with students interested in mathematical vocations. Student teachers invaded classrooms and practiced their theorems and formulas during the second semester.

Teachers of the department stressed the application of mathematical knowledge in daily life.

Mrs. Nancy Horton, Advanced Math and Algebra 2, is pensive at the Human Relations Workshop.

Consumer Math teacher Mrs. Margaret Bond is elated as her students solve their classwork problems.

Filmstrips and slides are valuable aids in teaching math for Mr. Harris Haskett.

Miss Beatrice Bolton, Algebra I and Geometry, displays a prize catch made at Wrightsville Beach.

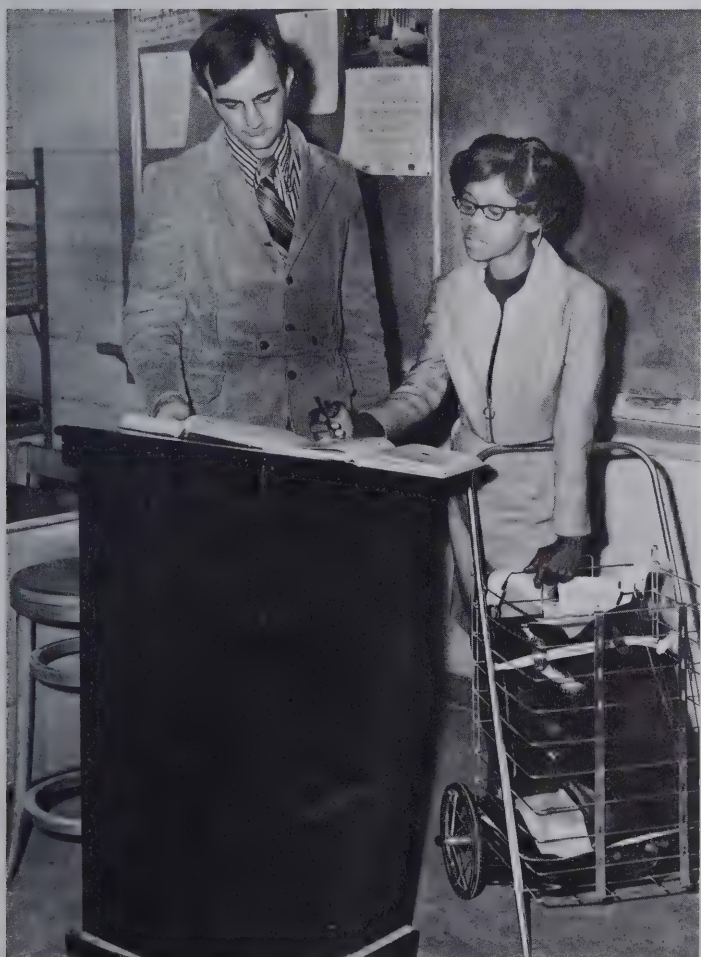

Classrooms To Discuss Career Opportunities

Miss Ruth Galloway proves diagonals bisect opposite angles in a square to her Geometry class as Mrs. Louise Turner demonstrates with a model.

Mr. William J. King, Algebra 1 and 2, enjoys the teachers' luncheon given by members of VICA.

Mrs. Edna Harris, traveling teacher, parks her cart to discuss Consumer Math problems with Mr. Larry Hiatt.

Miss Octavia Smith, Algebra 2, applies the distance formula as she lines up for a putt.

Mr. John Brunjes, Physics and Oceanography, demonstrates how B. C. maneuvers his wheel.

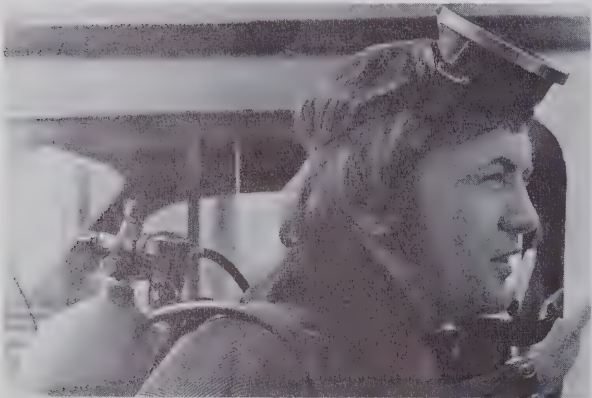

Mr. Larry Bray makes his explanation clearer with audio-visuals.

Lab Aides Receive Credit

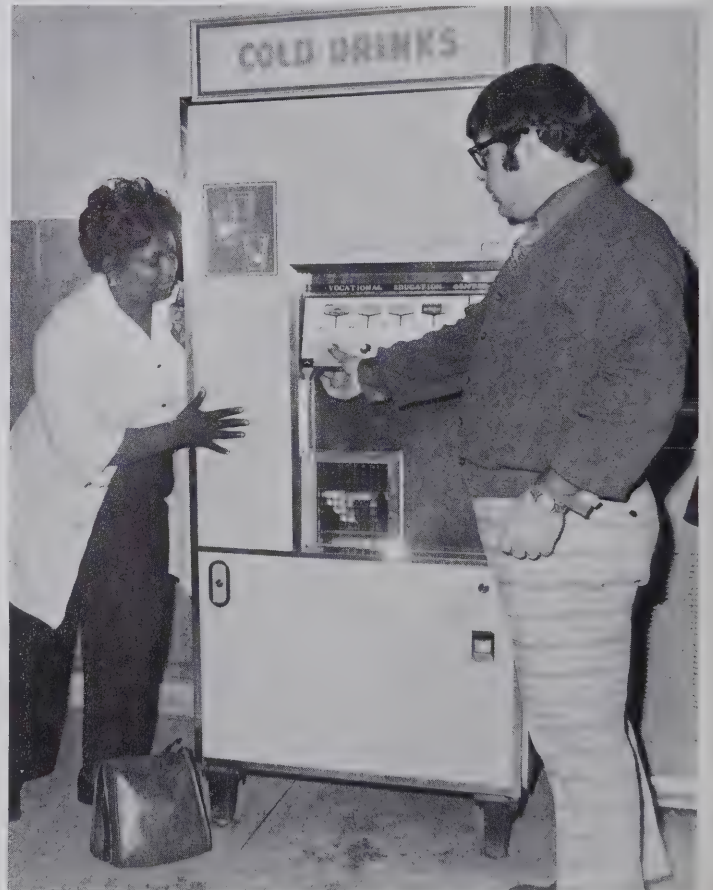

Expansion and improvement were evident in the Science Department this year. The Biology Department acquired several new teachers and shifted some others to accommodate a record number of students.

Chemistry students applied what they learned in an increased number of lab periods this year. For the first time lab assistants received a unit for their aid in preparing and cleaning the lab, assisting students, and recording grades. Students interested in amateur photography learned how to develop their own pictures.

Mr. Frank Chapman pauses for a breather during his morning Oceanography class.

Mr. Kenneth Shaw, Science and Math, and Mrs. Florence Warren, Biology, take time out for a break from their Night School duties.

Mr. Thomas Tuttle, Biology, shows David Organ, Donald Mooneyham, and Hal Goodson how to put the finishing touches on a stuffed duck.

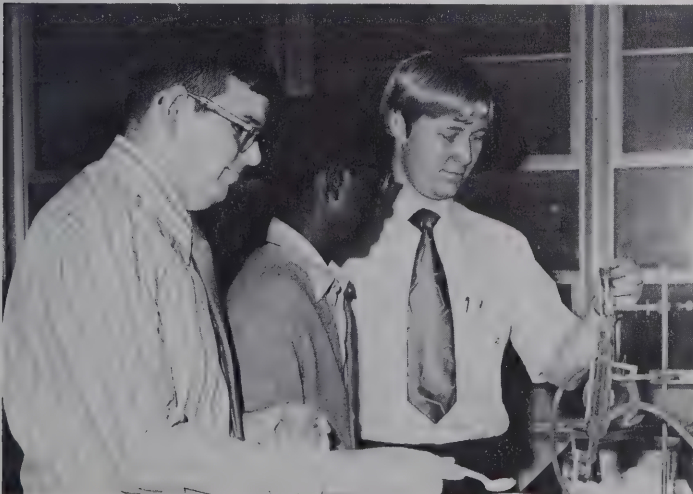

Mr. Hal Stout, Advanced Biology, explains that to pass this course you have to let the cat out of the bag.

Mr. Robert P. Stanley and Mr. Willie Washington, Physical Science, demonstrate the mechanical advantage of an inclined plane.

Chemistry teachers, Mr. Phil Burton and Mr. Kenneth Stanley, concoct a new potion as George Canty watches and wonders if he will be the guinea pig.

During a visit to the Science Resource Center, Mrs. Betty Clark, Biology, Developmental Reading, and Journalism 3, observes Mr. Dan Leeper, Biology and Physical Science, as he helps Peggy Jones dissect a frog

Music Students Strive For Concert Perfection

Concerts and contests highlighted the year for the Music Department. The bands participated in contests, such as the first annual Forty-Niners Festival and a non-competitive contest in Greensboro, along with a Christmas Concert.

District Festival Workshop at UNC-W, Teenage Princess Pageant, and a sacred concert were on schedule for the Hanover Singers and Ensemble. Several outstanding seniors took a trip to Greensboro for a choral workshop in the spring.

Mrs. Nancy McAllister tunes violins as a routine part of her school day.

Mrs. Jane Price, Vocal Music and English 4E, concentrates on each note the Hanover Singers produce.

Mr. Robert Floyd, Band, and Mr. William McAdams, Band and Music Theory, find their job also includes a repair shop.

Students Acquire Highway Skills

Mr. Edward Miastowski shares his method of keeping cool while instructing student drivers, with co-worker Mr. Wallace Piner.

This year Driver Education dropped its grade level to include the two ninth grade centers. As an experiment students spent two days of the week on the driving range at Hoggard to test their reaction to simulated conditions.

Mr. Miastowski and Mr. Piner experienced some hair raising events, as most of the students sat behind the wheel for the first time. Patience and tranquilizers helped until students acquired driving skills.

Major George Raymond, Senior Army Instructor, catches up on ROTC history.

Pentagon Official Visits ROTC Unit

Colonel Jones, a Pentagon official, honored the New Hanover High School ROTC unit last December with a visit at promotion time. He observed unit procedure, cadets, and facilities.

Earlier in the year a Special Forces team of twelve from Fort Bragg sponsored a survival camping trip. Forty cadets volunteered to spend twenty-four hours on Masonboro Island. Inclement weather restricted operations to the National Guard Armory.

Sgt. Major Lloyd Soles and Sgt. First Class Lonnie Tyson assemble a model M-16 rifle for classes.

Physical Education Stresses Fitness

Physical fitness was the point stressed in the Physical Education Department. During the first six weeks the boys' gym class exercised. The remainder of the year they participated in sports such as basketball, tennis, and track.

Participating in interest sports such as tumbling, speedball, and softball, as well as daily exercises, were the requirements in girls' physical education classes. The girls also learned many children's games so that they would be able to work in summer camps.

Physical Education Instructor and Head Football Coach, Glenn Sasser, presents Keith West with the Most Valuable Player Award.

Mrs. Faylene Voet, Girls' Physical Education, and Coach Pete Crane, Boys' Physical Education, team for a staff ping-pong match.

Assembling daily newspapers are Mrs. Annie Waddell and Miss Fannie O'Keef, librarians.

Library Rearranged

During the 1971-72 school year New Hanover High School's library underwent several changes. The need for closer supervision made it necessary for librarians and library assistants to secure books from the closed stacks. Aside from the usual activities of ordering new books and maintaining the general routine of the library, Mrs. Waddell and library assistants revamped the reference room. Library Science became a one unit course giving all library assistants one credit toward graduation.

Home Economics teachers Mrs. Irene Mack and Mrs. Shirley Glover decorate cakes for parent observers' tea.

Mrs. Vivian Baynes, Nursery School director and Child Care, assists Brack Hardee after his nap.

Home Ec Expands Courses

The Home Economics Department offered Introductory and Advanced Home Economics, Family Life Education, Foods, and Child Development courses to approximately 250 students.

Family Life Education, a relatively new course, provided general preparation for home living for senior girls and boys. Field trips to various business establishments in Wilmington involved the students in further study in consumer education. The Child Development course for senior girls met two periods a day in the nursery.

Assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Wells and Mrs. Rose Midyette, Mrs. Hazel Warner, cafeteria manager, prepares desserts for lunch.

Filling out infirmiry information cards is one of the many jobs of Mrs. Annie Mason, school nurse.

Service Requires Skill

Mr. Henry Vann and his staff served our school in many different areas. Besides keeping New Hanover High School and its grounds clean, they were responsible for everything from adjusting the sound system in Brogden Hall during various programs to replacing pencil sharpeners.

Fifteen cafeteria workers supervised by Mrs. Hazel Warner prepared, served, and cleaned up after daily meals in the cafeteria and Student Union.

Fortunately, the infirmiry assistants and Mrs. Annie Mason experienced no extraordinary emergencies, but they were kept busy with approximately 200 students a day.

Custodian Henry Vann adjusts the sound system in Brogden Hall during the North Carolina Symphony program.

Art teachers, Mrs. Jane Rippy and Mr. James Boone, observe students as they study shape and tone.

Students Letter Signs

The Art Department included advanced as well as basic courses in its curriculum. Art students lettered signs for the Homecoming Court cars in the Homecoming Parade, concentrated drawings on life around New Hanover High School, and worked with various aspects of color, shape, and tone. Mosaics, collages, and mobile construction added variety to the courses.

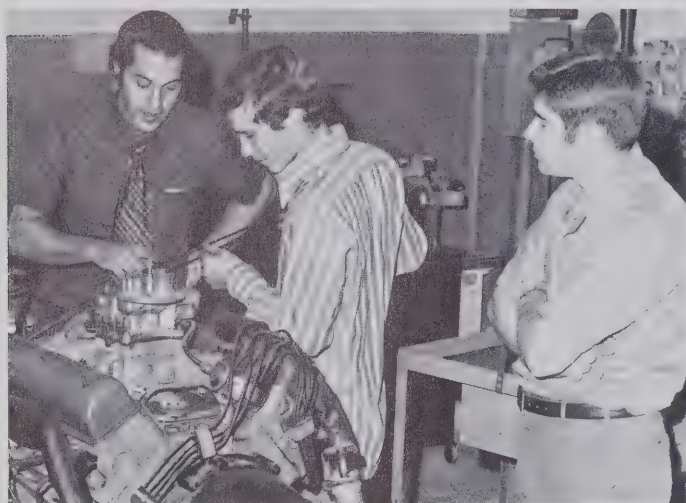

Mrs. Katie Smith, Distributive Education, and students Beate Owens and Kenny Futch discover that keeping a scrapbook is hard work.

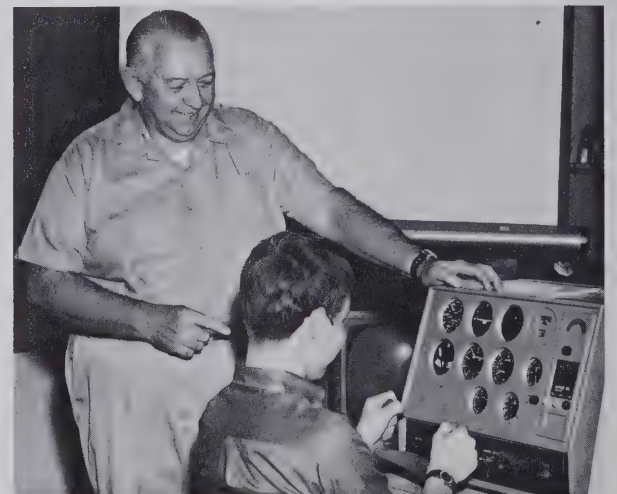

Industrial Cooperative Training Coordinator, Mr. William Bergeron, and Peggy Strupe find that time and effort produce rewarding results.

Job Training Insures Students' Future

Auto Mechanics 1 and 2 instructors, Mr. A. J. Parlatore and Mr. Atlas Maynard, teach precision to Danny Cribb in tuning a carburetor.

Courses in the Vocational Department offered students varied opportunities with job training and practical instruction in such areas as electronics, construction, retail sales, and health careers. Those students receiving vocational training who did not plan to enter college had insurance of an opportunity for a job in the immediate future, while those planning to continue their education gained a definite advantage in experience that would help them make better career choices.

Is Mr. Kenneth Wooten, Aerospace, telling Butch Futch that he would make a good Kamikaze pilot?

Carol Roberts receives special help from Mr. George Garrett, Drafting 1 and 2, and Mr. David Stillman, Drafting 3 and Commercial Art.

Mrs. Betty Garrett, Health Occupations 1 and 2, demonstrates the technique for taking a pulse to Linda Bryant, Barbara Price, and Kathy Roethlinger.

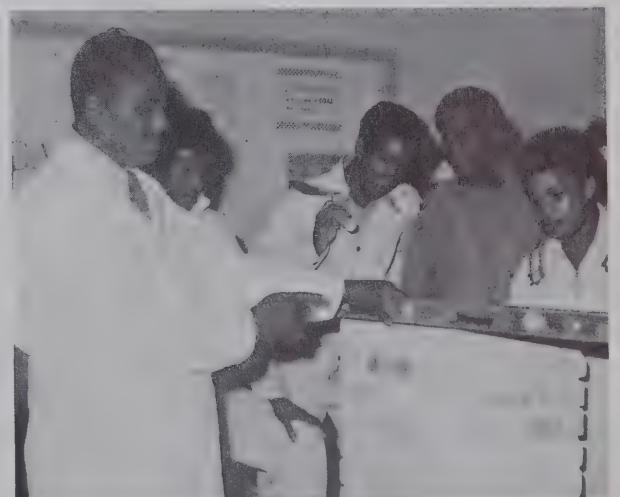

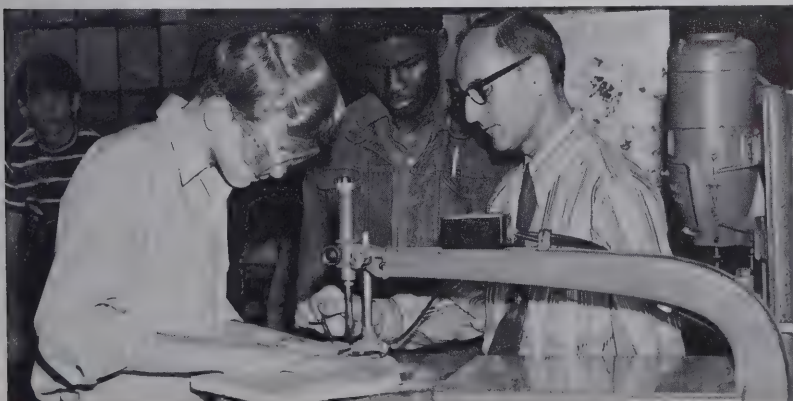

Mr. Joseph Wood, Electronics, and Mr. Emanuel Singletary, Electrical Industry and Installation, make sure that Randy Greer takes the proper precautions in checking a circuit.

Mr. Charlie McBroom, Tailoring and Garment Manufacturing, stresses the importance of correct pressing after alterations.

Mr. Justine Kornegay, Construction Industry and Carpentry, tells Freddie Stanley and Lee Ellison how to make smooth cuts on the jigsaw.

Mr. William Wright, Bricklaying, explains to Hezekiah Nixon, James Clark, William Boyd, and Dennis Peyton the importance of a level column.

Parents, Deputies, Aides, and Secretaries

Mrs. Fletcher Eddens and Mrs. Ulysses Rogers, Parent Observers, worked in the office each Monday.

New Hanover County Sheriff's Department Deputies patrolled our halls diligently for a second year. Although students argued as to whether the deputies served a useful purpose, school ran smoothly—a fact which might be attributed to their efforts. Parent Observers coordinated by Mrs. Norman Evenson confirmed students' absences, worked in the library, and helped handle the workload of the main office. Over seventy volunteers participated in this program.

These two groups readily aided students and faculty when needed and the student body appreciated their efforts.

Mrs. Nancy Chappell and Mrs. Evelyn Bradshaw, Teacher Aides, type and mimeograph stencils for teachers.

Parent Observers relax and enjoy the tea given for them by the Human Relations Office.

Stopping traffic for a pep rally is just one of the duties of Deputies Kenneth Hooks and Harold Woods.

Increase Efficiency within the School

Mrs. Jackie Pridgen and Mrs. Mary Skipper, Secretaries, work with the attendance cards collected daily by the office.

Mrs. Vallie Evans, Supply Clerk, puts a lost textbook in a teacher's box while Mrs. Dorothy Bryant, Attendance Clerk and Secretary, distributes daily bulletins.

Mrs. Vallie Evans handled hundreds of cases of losts and founds in the bookroom and managed teachers' supplies. The main office, operated by Mrs. Jackie Pridgen, kept permanent records, checked students in and out of school, confirmed doctor's appointments, and answered the ever-ringing telephones. Compiled, typed, and distributed daily by Mrs. Dorothy Bryant, the bulletin informed students and faculty of activities. Mrs. Mary Skipper, Mr. Mason's secretary, secured substitutes, checked attendance, and completed payroll forms, along with normal correspondence.

Aides mimeographed and typed stencils for exams as well as tests. The five teacher assistants relieved teachers of the tasks of keeping study halls.

Teacher Aides, Mrs. Kay Bray and Mrs. Elvie Mitchell, enjoy a break from their study hall duties.

Extra Programs Meet Students' Needs

Mrs. Patricia Montgomery, Night School instructor, observes several students' current event reports.

Students enjoy the quiet facilities of the Learning

Mrs. Joyce Bachner enjoys helping with Learning Lab projects.

Various educational programs supplemented school opportunities in New Hanover County. The Night School enabled students to work during the day and continue their education. Individualized instruction was available in the Resource Center during the day and in the Learning Lab during the evening hours.

Mr. Jim Meadows watches as Mrs. Louise Rehder assists in voter registration.

Mr. Billy Mason helps the students give the football team a rousing send off.

Lab.

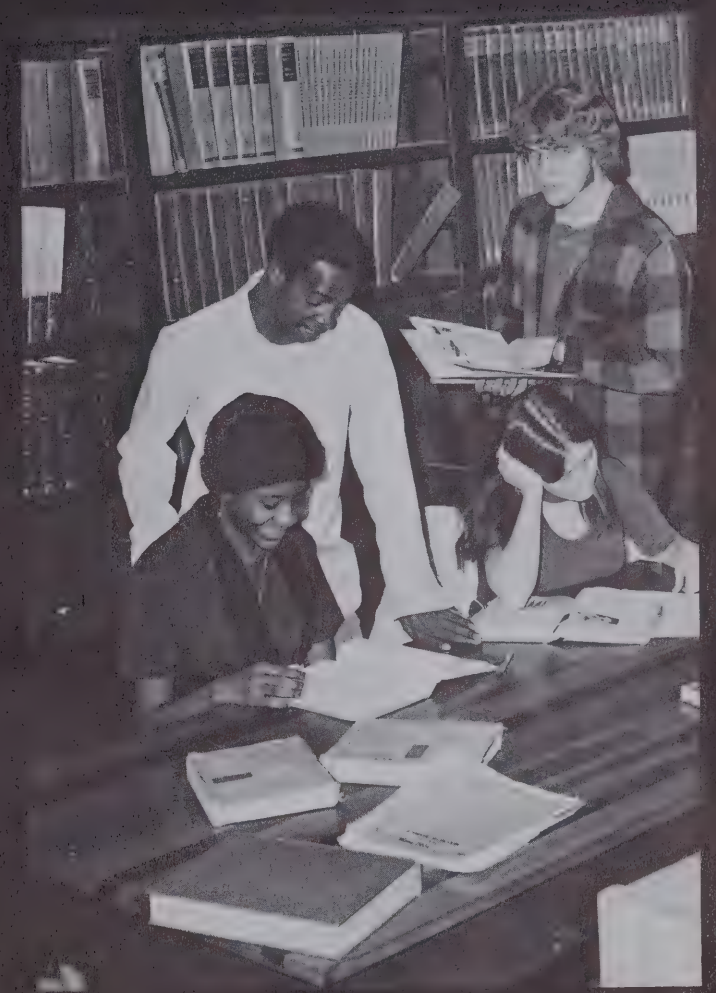

Miss Ruth Galloway and Quill and Scroll members enjoy the frivolity of a Christmas party.

Coaches Bill Hardee and Pete Crane relax as they discuss the baseball schedule for the 1972 season.

Be wishes always. I'll miss you next year.

Bill Boehling

Mrs. Lane,
It's very hard to sum up me year in a word or so. You & miss Heinrich have been the only teachers I have really looked for word to. As a teacher you still come through as a person and always been able to reach you.
Your trust in me and taking it upon yourself to let me work on my own has brought out some responsibilities and drives I wasn't even aware of. In a way, it's kinda' sad when I think how you must've been so eager and ambitious when you first started teaching and

Mrs. Jane,
It's really been nice
having you for my teacher this year. Of all the English teachers I've had, you've been the best. Have a good summer and keep right on teaching. I'll always remember you.

Mrs. Lane,

This sure has been a great year. I have really enjoyed being in your class this year. Your class ~~is~~ is the only one that I have liked this year. We have really had some good times in this class, I sure hope you have enjoyed it. You are a real great lady. Stay as you are and I'll suggest all my friends (underclassmen) to get you. See you ~~around~~ around and watch out, I may drop in a few times next year.

Be good
Charles Lee
2nd Bd. class of '72.

Mrs. Lane. Thanks
we love you! Thanks for putting up with me and all my slithering
this year. I can truly say that of my three years at new Hanover I have been at more of mother and a person to me instead of a person.
I had you for being three hours instead of one. I feel because I had you for anyone very sorry we didn't mean to. Stay
the great person you are.
keep laughing,
love,

Mrs. Lane,

The best English teacher I ever had. I have learned a lot in this year. Some of us thought that you were rough at some times but really you are a fair teacher. Don't never change.

Dear! Dear! Dear!

Dear! Dear! Dear!
Mrs. Jane, you must realize that no amount of words now time could allow me to write just how I feel about you. You have been one of the best... if not the best teacher... I've ever ~~text~~ had - and you know I wouldn't tell you that if I wasn't sincere! You have always been so kind and so thoughtful, especially towards me. I'm so glad that I didn't pass by the towards me. & it's a opportunity of meeting and working with you during the sophomore year. You have a way of making people feel wanted and needed - especially in such a place at NHS! So, I suppose I could go on and on and on and tell you how wonderful you are ... but I won't, you're not... just teasing. (Isn't life one big tease anyway?) I'd wish you all the luck in the world, but you've acquired everything that could possibly ever be wanted

Love,

Bull Hicks

Have a good year as a teacher.

Mrs. Lane

I have enjoyed being a student in your class. I hope wishes you in the forth coming future.

Mrs. Lane

I have enjoyed being in your English class.
You are a very nice teacher.
Good luck!

LEWIS

To My Teacher
I have enjoyed being with you this year. I hope you the best of luck.
DARLENE

Mrs. Lane,
You are the best teacher
I have had this year.
I am sorry to leave, but I wish the best for you in the future, and most of all, "Thanks for a helping hand."

Robert

This year,
I've enjoyed being in your English class very much. I hope you are all well. But wishes and all of luck. See you next year.
